Puebla When Rebel

Rebels Prevent Loyal Reinforcements From Landing At ManzanilloBy Associated Press
Vera Cruz—Almost coincident with news of the victory of rebel troops in a battle near Irapuato, insurgent headquarters here received word that the Obregonist forces had abandoned the city of Puebla from which the rebels withdrew "for strategic reasons" several days ago.The decision of the federalists to evacuate Puebla, it is said, was taken in consequence of the defeat the loyalists sustained at a railway town about 60 miles to the north of the city. Rebel troops advancing over the Mexican railway line in addition with general plan to prevent General Obregon from moving troops at Puebla to the western front, met and defeated federal troops from the latter town. It is reported with victory being facilitated by the defection of the major part of the federalists.Thus it appeared here that the rebels have gained important ground on both the western and Vera Cruz fronts. They are also said to have occupied Manzanillo an important west coast port in Colima.ROUTES 2,000 FEDERALS General Estrada, commander of the revolutionary forces in western Mexico, reports that General Buena not only completely routed the 2,000 federalists under General Cardenas but made prisoners of Cardenas and 300 of his men and captured about 1,000 rifles.General Estrada's report, outlining the battle, says:Obregon had prepared to deal a mortal blow on the western front by a combined front attack via the railroad and a rear assault from the direction of the sea, for which purpose he detached from Michoacan 2,000 cavalry under General Lazaro Cardenas.
This force entered Jalisco and advanced over the Colima railroad, while other troops from Sonora and Nayarit, disembarked at Manzanillo."To avoid being encircled, General Estrada formed a column at Ciudad Guzman under orders of General Buena. This detachment was to maneuver to the rear of the Cardenas force. Meanwhile another column was formed in front of the Cardenas regiment with orders to hold the attention of the enemy until it was deemed expedient for Buena to attack. At the proper moment Buena gave battle and routed Cardenas completely."The rebels, it is further stated, also succeeded in preventing the federalists from landing reinforcements at Manzanillo about six million acres of land in the state of New York. It is claimed this land was given the Six Nations by the treaty of 1764, and that the Indians were wrongfully deprived of their property. Many descendants of the Six Nations are located at Oshkosh, Green Bay, Stockbridge and Brothertown, in this part of Wiscon-

SITE FOR ORPHANS HOMEBy Associated Press
Des Moines—The board of directors of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen will meet here Saturday and probably will select the site of the projected yeoman orphan home but no announcement of the selection will be made until the directors have considered the land on which the home will be built. It was said by Yeomen officials here Friday.
Several sites in Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri and other mid-western states will be considered at Saturday's meeting, it is indicated.

Washington, D. C.—E. F. Clarke, formerly high in the councils of the Ku Klux Klan, has been attempting for months to destroy the order, according to a statement issued by Milton Elrod, director of its department of publications and education, after the publication of Mr. Clarke's demand for "reform" within the organization or its dissolution.Mr. Clarke's charge in a letter to President Coolidge that "an element" of the Klan was diverting it from its purposes and ideals of its founders administration. "This expression, he intended to call upon 'the better element' to take steps to remedy the existing evils," is disband the organization brought from Mr. Elrod a declaration that the membership had grown from "less than one hundred thousand members after seven years of Clarke regime" to a "total membership of millions under the present administration." "This expression, he said, was 'evidence of the sincerity of purpose and the knowledge of Klan-men themselves for the true ideals and high purposes of the order,' and he referred 'to the thousands of the nation' to Ecclesiastes 7:21, which reads: 'Also take no heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear

Red Clover Seed From Nelson WarehouseA robbery at Dale Thursday night netted the burglars about $550 in clover seed that was stolen from a warehouse operated by Birdell Nelson, general store proprietor.Sheriff Otto H. Zuehlke was summoned to the village early Friday morning and after an investigation learned that about 25 bags of alsike and red clover had been removed from the warehouse during the night. The clover seed was valued at $550.
Further investigation proved that the bags were removed in a Ford sedan and that this car had made two trips in which to haul away the loot.
Neighbors saw a sedan pull up at the warehouse at about 11 o'clock and again at about 2 o'clock. It is not known just how many were in the car or what their destination was. Neighbors did not see what, however, that a crime was being committed. A read-door was broken at the warehouse.
Word of the burglary has been broadcast to police chiefs in the surrounding territory, and proprietors of wholesale feed stores have been notified in the hope of detecting the burglars when the feed is sold.Sheriff Zuehlke is of the opinion that the Medina gang, one of whom next year will find an interstate highway connecting Chicago and Iron Mountain, Mich., numbered continuously No. 57, from the Wisconsin-Illinois line southwest of Kenosha through to the Wisconsin-Michigan line of Niagara. Assurance of this was received in a letter from A. R.

Hirst, state highway commissioner, to Jerome A. North, chairman of the Association of Commerce highway committees, made public Friday.
The Green Bay highway committee is cooperating with residents of northern Wisconsin in an effort to have No.
38 renumbered to 57 and made a federal aid highway. In the correspondence on this subject Mr. Hirst writes:
"We have already decided to carry the number 57 from the state line outlet at Niagara. This change will be in effect for the travel season

Vocation From
HandwritingBy Associated Press
Madison—An individual's vocation can usually be distinguished by his style of handwriting, Professor J. H.
Downey of the University of Wisconsin told the annual convention of the American Psychological association in session here Friday.Expert forgers are often "explosive" writers, with a free, easy manner of writing, Professor Downey said.
Scientists, thinkers with great self-control, are sometimes "vertical" writers; novelists, artists and others with impulsive, temperamental natures write with an excessive slant to the right; actors, diplomats, politicians who practice reserve and self concealment often slant their writing to the left; the society woman writes in a flowing neat, graceful manner, while masculine handwriting is characterized by its boldness, force and originality. These were some of the observations of Professor Downey.Dr. G. Stanley Hall of Clark university was elected president of the Psychological association Thursday.
H. T. Poffenburger and Ru-dolp Dintler of Columbia university were elected new members of the executive council.INQUEST WILL

Years After Being Con-

Chicago—A coroner's inquest is scheduled to start Friday to determine the cause and fix the blame for the fire which on Wednesday night destroyed an annex building of the Dun-ding insane asylum with a loss of eighteen lives.Theories that the fire was caused by an incendiary, possible spontaneous combustion, defective wiring or carelessness on the part of an inmate are all to be investigated. Reasons why the building was used 12 years after it had been condemned are to be sought by the jurors in their efforts to fix responsibility. Meanwhile hospital authorities are endeavoring to identify eight bodies and are searching for five missing inmates who may have escaped and fled to relatives.
Search of the ruins has uncovered
no more bodies, and of the two score who escaped all except five have been captured or wandered back to the institution.CONGRESS PROBES

fourteen arrests, but the whereabouts of the missing list of alleged purchasers seized at the time and liquor

Treasury Officials Hope To Cor-

Washington—Administration of the income tax law is to be simplified at last.Decision by the ways and means committee to include a court or tribunal of appeal composed of 28 members who will sit as a quasi-judicial body is one of the most important steps taken since the income tax law was first passed. It has been constantly sought by business and trade organizations. Businessmen have felt that under the present system the officials of the income tax bureau acted as prosecuting attorneys as well as judges and that the desire to increase the government's revenues sometimes took precedence over equity.Under the proposed plan the tribunal will be a court of last resort before which attorneys representing private parties and attorneys representing the treasury or income tax units will argue their cases. This, it is expected, will have a far-reaching effect not only in saving the federal treasury from many appeals taken from treasury decisions but in making the parties at interest feel that they have had judicial consideration.Again and again there have been litera interpretations of the income tax law by various parts of the income tax unit which have been made the basis of equity suits later on. The law itself has wasted a great deal of power in the treasury or the treasury and in the commissioner of internal revenue, but both of these officials are far too busy to give personal consideration to income tax controversies even of major importance in dollars and cents. With a special tribunal created, this discretionary power probably will be exercised for the commissioner of internal revenue or the secretary of the treasury.COLLECTIONS IMPROVED Another important step provided for in the bill being framed in the house ways and means committee is one relating to collections. Hardships have been imposed in the past by the treasury department in enforced collections but the treasury had no discretion in the matter. The law has required collection in cash in 30 days.
Most businessmen have their money tied up in capital assets such as machinery or goods on hand. Dozens of them have been compelled to raise large sums on 30 days notice. The banks have not always been able to lend the needed amounts and in many cases bankruptcies have resulted. The concerns have in reality been solvent but unable to realize on their assets quickly enough to suit the government.As the tax bill is being considered this time, officials of the treasury hope to have many provisions corrected which time and experience have shown to be unwise.WOMAN USES OIL TO LIGHT FIRE; MAY DIEBy Associated Press
Manitowish—Mrs. John Mrotek, 55, may die as a result of burns she suffered Friday morning when her clothing was ignited by explosion of an oil can while she was lighting a fire at her home here. The fire burned slowly and Mrs. Mrotek attempted to use the oil when the can exploded.
The woman, a flaming torch as her clothing ignited, rushed from the bath room and a neighbor grasped her and threw her to the ground. Mrotek her about in an endeavor to extinguish the flames, which was accomplished only after more than one third of the woman's body had been severely burned. She was removed to the hospital where it was said Friday afternoon her condition was critical from burns and the shock. The home was not damaged.OSHKOSH OFFICIALS ORDER

those who took in the excursion and who are now living in Ashland are
A. W. Brown and H. C. Armstrong. It

STATE INCOME
TAX DISTRICTSAttorney General's Department Refuses Ruling On Legality Of ChangeMadison—Indications of an attack on the recent redistricting of state income tax assessors and a probable test of the state tax commission's action, was made known Friday when the attorney general's department declined to render an opinion to District Attorney A. F. Murphy at Marinette, regarding legality of the redistricting.
Information to the legal department is that the county boards of Marinette, Forest and Florence counties, which composed the thirty third assessor's district, had jointly appropriated funds for the coming year.
Under the new districting, the thirty third district is abolished. County board officials have raised the question of disposition of the funds and whether the commission's action was legal.
In the redistricting, the tax commission abolished nine districts, reducing the number from 40 to 30.
The attorney general's office advised Mr. Murphy that no opinion would be rendered in view of the fact that should a test suit be brought, the legal department would represent the tax commission.Tax commission officials declare that assessors' districts have been revised in past years by other commissions.KORETZ WARNS SON concluding a brief statement to the pair, "there will be a substantial refor parole until they have served half of their sentence, according to the Wisconsin statutes.Sailstad and Miss Anderson were brought into the court room at 10:25

plaint. Making their pleas, the pair spoke hardly above a whisper. The court granted Mr. Kennedy's request to be permitted to make a few re-stressing the seriousness of the crime but suggested that since the accused were "going straight" and undoubtedly nothing to say but Sailstad murmured a few words, hardly heard by those in the crowded court room. He trembled as he asked the court to "give me a

SHUTDOWN PERIODSCshkosh Industries Predict Busy Building Season For Coming YearBy Associated Press
Oshkosh—Local woodworking factories, especially the sash and door and furniture plants, are too busy to have prolonged closing periods this year. In fact, they will reduce the annual shutdown for inventory and repairs to the minimum. Where in some former years, they closed for ten days to two or three weeks at this time, none of them will be idle for more than a week. Some will only close for a day or two and others will not stop some departments at all. As a result, Oshkosh factory labor, running into thousands of men, will experience a shorter period of idleness than in many years. Inquiry among sash and door plants, and furniture factories shows more orders than usual dirigible, had been found in Sicilian waters, caused all hopes of the safety of the Dixmude to be abandoned.These hopes had faded up Thurs-

that the balloon had been floating helplessly over the Sahara desert.
The Rome advice convinced the officials there could be no possible doubt as to the identity of the body picked up, as Lieutenant Grenadan had an Italian identification tag on his wrist.Italian fishermen hauling in their

ROSEBUSH, EMMIE ON COMMITTEE OF CHRISTIAN COUNCIL

Rev. E. W. Wright Attends Executive Committee Meeting In Oshkosh

J. G. Rosebush and E. E. Emme have been appointed to the educational committee of the Wisconsin Christian Educational Council which met at the council headquarters in Oshkosh on Thursday. The Rev. E. W. Wright, who is a member of the executive committee and secretary of the council, was one of the 11 members present. Mr. Rosebush also is a member of the executive committee.

Reports of the officers showed the council to be greatly in need of more financial assistance in order to carry on the enormous program which has been planned for the coming year. In addition to the other boys' and girls' convention, the council plans to have county conferences and conventions as well as a convention of county presidents. The council has organized practically every county in the state and its program this year will extend into each of them.

GANFIELD IS DELEGATE
Dr. G. A. Ganfield, who is president of the state conference, was appointed delegate to the national convention. The educational committee to which the Appleton men were appointed will study the entire field of religious education and make suggestions to the council concerning its work here.

Two assistants to Mr. Rosebush have been authorized. Miss Edith Towhe of Fond du Lac and Mr. J. W. Gowan of Appleton will be appointed to assist him. Mr. Rosebush will have charge of the extension of the children's department. A man will be appointed to take care of some special work in the fall.

The sectional conference to which Appleton young people will go will take place in Fond du Lac April 23 and 24. The place for the southern conference has not yet been determined but it will take place on May 1 and 2. The northern conference will take place at Ashland but the dates have not been determined.

The financial committee reported that it wishes to raise an additional $5,000 for expenses this year. Its plan for raising this money has not been announced.

The executive committee voted to ask the state M. C. A. to appoint a member of its council to the executive committee of the Christian education council. This will insure the two organizations which do similar work a close contact and alliance.

Mr. Bushey won the prizes as follows: First old pen, first young pen, first, second, third and fourth hen, first, second, third and fourth pullet, first, second, third and fourth cock, and first, second, third and fourth cock.

Mr. Loos' prizes were first and third cock, first and third cockerel, second and third hen.

George M. Wells of Oshkosh, national authority on poultry, did the judging on Thursday.

HEALTH OFFICER MOVES
WHEN HOME IS REMODELED

The spacious residence at 511 Lawrence-st., now occupied by Dr. W. C. Felton and owned by Mayor Henry Reuter, is to be remodeled and made into a duplex flat.

Dr. Felton, city health commissioner, expects to take a new residence on Garfield-st. and will open an office in the Schlicht building at College-ave. and Oneida-st. The removal probably will take place in about a week.

Plans have been drawn by Edward Wettengel, architect, for complete remodeling of the interior of the house so that the two proposed flats will be entirely independent of the other. The house is to be rewired and separate plumbing and heating systems will be installed.

ARRANGE CONVENTION FOR INSURANCE AGENTS

George H. Beckley left Friday for Milwaukee, where he will make arrangements for the visit to Wisconsin Feb. 1 and 2 of Louis F. Butler, president of the Travelers Insurance company of Hartford, Conn. Mr. Beckley is chairman of a committee which has the plans in charge.

Mr. Butler is to be the speaker at the annual convention of the Travelers club of Wisconsin, composed of agents of the company in the state. It will be held in Milwaukee on the above dates. Considerable preparation is being made for Mr. Butler's appearance, because this will be the first time he had addressed a state meeting of agents.

Budget Prepared
The budget committee of the Y. M. C. A. composed of A. R. Eddy, George H. Packard and James A. Wood, prepared the budget for 1924 at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday afternoon. The amount determined upon was slightly in excess of the present one. The new budget will be submitted to the board of directors for adoption at a meeting to be held Thursday, Jan. 2.

OLDEST RESIDENT CAN'T REMEMBER A YEAR LIKE THIS

Is it not unusual to see street sweepers pushing their carts down College-ave. at this time of the year? The town patriarchs after consulting their diaries declared that never before have they seen the white wing men working on the streets between Christmas and New Year. In the sweeps except those working on College-ave. were dismissed by the street commissioner Thursday evening, however. They had finished their season's work on Dec. 1, but were reengaged to work during Christmas week, since a good deal of waste accumulated on the streets as a result of Christmas shopping.

MONEY PRIZES ARE OFFERED IN GRAIN AND CORN SHOW

Exhibit Of Farm Products Will Be Held In Connection With Poultry Show

Attractive prizes are offered for the best exhibits at the corn and grain show to be held Jan. 23, 24, 25, and 26 at the armory in connection with the poultry show to be given by the Fox River Poultry and Pet Stock association.

Ten ears will constitute an exhibit in the corn show and one peck sample will be required as an exhibit for the grain show. Each person may exhibit in all classes but cannot make more than one entry of any variety.

Six prizes ranging in value from $5 to $25 will be awarded for the best exhibits of Wisconsin No. 12 Golden Glow corn, and six similar prizes for the best exhibits for Wisconsin No. 1 Silver King corn.

Five prizes ranging in value from $4 to $10 will be awarded for any other variety of field corn and four prizes ranging in value from $3 to $10 will be awarded for the best exhibits of pop corn. A prize of $2 is offered for the biggest ear.

Prizes for the best exhibits of grain range from $3 to $10 in value. Exhibits will include oats, winter wheat, spring wheat, barley, rye, potatoes, clover and alfalfa seed.

AWAIT COLD WEATHER TO FLOOD ICE RINKS
The weather man may find it difficult to please everyone but dried-in wool skaters are clamoring for a prolonged frost. Thus far the city street department has found it quite useless to flood the ice rinks in the various wards on account of the mild weather in December.

Since the cold snap which occurred on Thursday evening, R. M. Connolly, city engineer, believes that employees will soon be able to start putting the rinks in shape. For fear that the initial sprinkling will be for naught, he thinks it best to wait a day or two to see if the present weather will prevail.

Mr. Connolly admits that he is not familiar with the northern winters, and the freakish weather of the month has mystified him all the more.

CO. D MARKSMEN GET INSIGNIA AT MILITARY PARTY

Dinner At Y. M. C. A. Is Followed By Ceremony And Dance In Armory

Members of Company D, 127 Infantry, Appleton, and their wives and friends were entertained at a dinner at the Y. M. C. A. and a dance party in Armory G on Thursday evening. Captain Fred B. Roger was master of ceremonies, and Lieutenant Cloyd B. Schneider presided in place of Captain Erwin F. Grundeman, who was unable to attend the dinner. Other military notables present were: Lieutenant Colonel Donald A. Scheller, Major Luther Grant, Major Frederick Hoffman, Major Albert Tucker, Captain George Merkel, Lieutenant John Vogt, Sergeant Harry Marx and Sergeant Mike Steinhauer.

After the dinner, a ceremony was held in Armory G at which orders were read announcing the following qualifications in pistol marksmanship: Pistol experts, Captain Erwin F. Grundeman, First Lieutenant Cloyd B. Schneider, pistol sharpshooters, Private Robert T. Thompson, Corporal William Donovan, Second Lieutenant Harry E. Kerrigan, Private first class Ira E. Kimball, pistol marksmen, Sergeant Howard J. VanOoyen, Corporal Erwin Bogan, Private Phelan Van Ryzin, Private first class Norman Toek, Sergeant Fred A. Rogers, Corporal Donald A. Scheller, Major Frederick Hoffman decorated the men, congratulating each upon his marksmanship.

In addition to the insignia, the following prizes, given by local business men, were awarded. Corporal William Donovan, gold medal from F. C. Hyde and Co. and hunting vest from Schlar Hardware Co.; Private first class Ira Kimball, $5 credit slip from Appleton Sport Shop; Sergeant Howard J. VanOoyen, focusing flashlight from the Valley Sporting Co.; Corporal Erwin Bogan, casting rod from a Galpin Sons; Private Van Ryzin, $2 credit slip from the Novelty Boot Shop; Private Orvil Muenster, safety razor from the Hauert Hardware Co.

Dancing followed the ceremony. The armory was decorated with Christmas greens and punch was served at a table decorated with the national colors.

Pierce J. VanAlstyne, who spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. VanAlstyne, has returned to St. Louis, Mo.

BEGIN EXCAVATING FOR HOTEL ADDITION

C. R. Meyer And Sons Co. Get Contract For Erecting Part Of Building

Excavation for the six-story addition of the Conway hotel was commenced on Thursday afternoon and will be completed within a week. The contract for the construction of the addition has been awarded to C. R. Meyer and Sons Construction company. Work on these will be commenced as soon as plans have been completed. The dirt which is being taken from the hotel is being hauled to the Lawrence bridge approaches for filling. Seven teams are at work removing the dirt. The annex, the building at the rear of the main hotel, has been wrecked within the last few days to make room for the addition.

Work on the hotel is being hurried.

WANT TWO COUNTIES TO TAKE OVER U. S. SCHOOL AT ONEIDA

Suggest Brown And Outagamie- cos Use Building For Agricultural School

A movement to make an agricultural school out of the abandoned federal Indian school at Oneida, begun when the school was still in operation, has been revived. The state department has proposed that Brown and Outagamie-cos take over the school to be reopened under joint county management partly as a school for naturalized Indians and partly as an agricultural school.

Under the plan proposed by the department, the counties would annually appropriate money for maintenance of the buildings and the state would pay for the teaching. It is estimated that it will take between $12,000 and $15,000 to put the buildings in a state of repair. The yearly maintenance, it is estimated, would be only a small sum.

Negotiations are underway for obtaining release of the school plant from the government. Indians who have obtained citizenship but still are educated by the government will be admitted to the school.

OUTLINE PLANS

Plans for opening the school under state and county supervision were outlined at a conference between John Callahan, state superintendent of schools, and a representative of the federal department at Green Bay recently. Because of lack of funds with which to rehabilitate the institution, it will be necessary for the state department to submit the plans to the county authorities. It is expected that the matter will be presented at the February meeting of the county board.

The federal government has adopted a plan of discontinuing the educational facilities for naturalized Indians in federal schools. In order to use the building for an agricultural school, it will be necessary to have a department for the education of Indian boys and girls.

The government school for Indians of the Oneida reservation has land containing more than 100 acres and buildings worth considerably more than $100,000. The buildings were left to deteriorate when the government abandoned the school in accordance with its plans to discontinue the education of Indians when, by obtaining citizenship, they ceased to be wards.

Seymour Geese Win Prizes At Chicago Show

Bulbuz Brothers of Seymour took six prizes out of eight entries at the fifth annual poultry show in the Coliseum at Chicago a week ago. The awards were made on their famous prize winning geese which also took honors at many of the leading fairs of the state.

Five African and three Emden geese were entered and prizes were as follows. On adult African geese, second prize, ten adult geese, first prize, young geese, first prize, young geese, first and second prizes, on white Emden geese, fourth prize, and on white Emden geese, fifth prize.

Entries were made at the poultry show by leading poultry breeders from all over the world. Gordon A. Bulbuz recently returned from a trip to the eastern states where he visited some of the progressive poultry farms and made selection of some breeding stock.

$71,965 STATE AID FOR COUNTY SCHOOLS

Outagamie-co. will receive $71,965 as its share of state aid for common schools for the present year, according to a statement published by John Callahan, state superintendent of schools. What amount Appleton will receive could not be stated definitely by Fred Bachman, city treasurer.

The appropriation for the entire state is $2,654,042.25, which is distributed on the basis of scholastic enrollment. The per capita rate was fixed at $3.75. From the total amount apportioned, $457,512.37 is withheld under various sections of the state laws, leaving the amount available for distribution at $2,196,529.88.

NEW PAPER MONEY SIMPLE IN DESIGN

Citizens National bank has been selected to print the new $1 bill from the Federal Reserve bank at Chicago and is presently working on the design. Quite a number of the bill's past designs have been seen, however.

The new issue of $1 bills will be the first of a series of new bills which are scheduled to appear. According to O. F. Nesterov, controller of cash and currency of the Federal Reserve bank, the designs on all issues of Federal Reserve notes are being changed with the object of making the designs more difficult.

The new notes will carry portraits with a denomination value as follows: $1, Washington; $5, Lincoln;

$10, Jackson; $20, Cleveland; $50, seal and the dollar insignia. An artist, Grant, $100, Franklin, the border design, carries the number '1' by the public. The new $1 bill is simpler in design than any of the old issues, and looks more attractive. It bears on its face only the picture of Washington, the new design, it is believed, will make these bills easily recognizable by the public. The $1 bill which is the first of the new series to appear, will be followed in a few months by the other denominations.

THE NEW LEAF
One of the favorite amusements of Uncle Zeb was turning over a new leaf. In that he was only following in the deep trodden footsteps of many enthusiastic self-reforming souls who have leaped from one experience to another, much as Eliza of old sprang from cake to cake of the floating life in eluding the pursuing bloodhounds. Uncle Zeb was one of those ecstasically self-sacrificing souls who boast that they will try anything once. In fact he tried most everything once, and some of them more than once too often.

When New Years approached he had a choice list of sins, peccadilloes and uncertain ways that he was going to abandon on the first of the coming year. It can be said to his credit that he stuck to his resolutions in the majority of cases, but the new paths that he sought then were, alas, not always improvements over those he had abandoned. Besides he still had a number of habits of uncertain grace left over after giving up a cart load of others.

So it goes. Yet the new leaf habit, after all, is not a bad one to follow. Our habits can all stand bettering. New leaves are the stepping stones of progress. Very few of us are capable of a steady improvement in character and achievements. We have our ups and downs. Whenever we have a down spell it is time to turn over a new leaf, and rise to a new height. It is well, also, every once in a while, to pause and consider how and where we stand and then wherever we see a weak spot, turn over a new leaf on that spot and make a stronger effort to do better in that line, or try a better line if the old one is no good.

Let's have a good lot of new leaves for 1921: keep the old ones pasted down and keep the new ones clean, but make them show a record of something attempted and something done.

BUSINESS OPTIMISM
In a sheaf of clippings from trade, banking and news periodicals, compiled and sent out by an advertising agency, is a view of the prevailing condition of American business which is stimulating at this time, when the record of the year is being gone over for a hint as to what to expect next year. In an interview in the New York Times, Frank A. Vanderbilt said of present conditions: "There is no over-production; no over-buying, particularly among retailers; hence there is no over-expansion of credit. Business is moving along on a steady, conservative plane." His belief is that the present prosperity will continue for "some little time."

The Federal Reserve board report on savings deposits November 1 shows that the American people have 10 per cent more money in this form of investment than they had on the same date last year. They have $6,744,702,000 in savings banks. This does not represent all of their savings by a very considerable amount, but it does indicate that they are a fairly prosperous, contented people, with faith in their economic scheme, in their government, and in the future of their country. People without faith in these three things do not put their money into savings banks.

The year 1920 will break all records in building operations. It has far exceeded the prophecies of a year or two ago, when an immediate decline was generally anticipated. A gradual increase in the steel trade has been noticed for several months. Car loadings are extremely heavy, indicating business prosperity, and supporting the view of Julius Krull-schnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific, that the railroads are in good condition and will stay that way if let alone. All of these comments and facts point to a pleasant prospect. They account for the optimism noted generally in business circles.

RUSSIA AND THE INTERNATIONALE
Secretary of State Hughes makes another strong point when he declares that the Soviet administration and the Third Internationale, or extreme communist organization, "are one and the same." His charge is borne out by fact.

The policy of the soviet administration is discussed at regular intervals at meetings of the Third Internationale. Lenin, Trotsky and other officers of the soviet are always present at these sessions, and they explain their views and plans to the convention. Then the convention decides what the administration shall or shall not do.

Frequent assertions that the soviet administration is abandoning communism on the ground that the world is not ready for such a radical change are only part of deliberate propaganda. The soviet has adopted features of capitalism, to the extent made necessary by circumstances, and it hopes to use capitalism to tide over immediate difficulties and postpone the total failure of communism.

The existing Russian government is, as Mr. Hughes declares, a branch of the communist party. It is a part of the Third Internationale. With the backing of Trotsky's red army less than fifteen per cent of the people of Russia rule the majority of nearly ninety per cent. And when it is said that the soviet government is the most stable in Europe, this means that the stability is the red soldiers' guns.

ANALYZING THE TAX RETURNS
Approximately thirteen per cent, $35,600,000, of the total wealth of the United States in 1922 was invested in tax-exempt securities, according to research conclusions of the National association of Real Estate Boards. This organization alleges that large holders of wealth conceal their ownings in order to escape payment of income tax, and this charge is true.

In 1916 there were 1742 returns indicating incomes exceeding $300,000, the taxes on which amounted to $1,000,000,000, while there were only 246 returns in this class in 1921, with taxes totaling 153,000,000, a decrease of ninety per cent. The association alleges that the late William Rockefeller had sixty per cent of his fortune in tax-exempt securities.

Issuing tax-exempt securities was an act which gave official cognizance to tax-dodging. Citizens who have prospered under American conditions and who have accumulated capital should be willing to pay taxes in proportion to their wealth. The tax-exempt security is wrong in principle and it has been decidedly vicious in practice.

THE OLD MALTHUSIAN FALLACY
Prof. Edward M. East, of the Russey Institution for Research in Applied Biology, in Harvard university, brings forward again the old theory of Malthus, an English clergyman, that the population will reach the point where there will be an insufficient food supply. Malthus' theory was that the population increased by geometrical progression, that is, by multiplication, whereas the food supply increased arithmetically, that is, by addition.

First of all, there is no basis for holding that the food supply will ever be inadequate. Intensive cultivation could provide sufficient food for as many persons as the world could hold; and the area of tillable land is enlarging and the number and variety of foodstuffs are increasing.

Assuming, however, just for argument, that the food supply would, at some remote future time, be too small, what would become of those nations which would undertake to control the birth rate? They would decline through having an insufficient number of men to compete in modern commerce, and they would lack food supply through lack of money with which to buy eatables.

The situation in England is practically the same today as when Malthus originated his theory. Today American farmers are losing money because there is no market for their food products. The Malthusian theory was disproved long ago, just as the birth control theory was disproved, yet some scientists of standing continue to defend both.

Health Talks
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician And Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

WHAT A HEALTH INVENTORY IS LIKE
The blank or form of the periodic physical examination of apparently healthy persons, as prepared by the Council of Health and Public Instruction of the American Medical Association, goes into questions such as the nature of occupation and the conditions surrounding it, your home conditions, whether they are quiet or irritating, whether you sleep with windows open, how many hours you sleep, whether you eat between meals, how much butter how much candy, how much water you drink, whether you have the physic habit, your daily exercise, what you have to worry about, how are you chewing, why don't you go to church, and a lot more intimate matters.

It has spaces to note whether you are protected against smallpox, typhoid fever and diphtheria. It asks about your latest visit to your dentist and what he did to you, have you lost any of your parents, brothers or sisters.

It has a list of a dozen popular diseases. It is very curious indeed about your dietary habits.

Skipping gracefully over the questions you are asked we get to the business part of the examination.

The periodic physical examination of the apparently healthy devotes particular consideration to the state of the glands and the functional tests.

A physician prepared to make these periodic health assurance inventories for private clients must be equipped with such articles:

- Tape measure.
- Tongue depressors.
- Spe. light.
- Stethoscope.
- Sphygmomanometer.
- Otoscope.
- Laryngeal mirror.
- Hemoglobin scale.
- Nasal speculum.
- Something to ring.
- Tuning fork.
- Reflex hammer.
- Gauze mask.
- Vision chart (eye test type).
- Rubber gloves or finger cots.
- Vaginal speculum.
- Weight scales.
- Chemicals and apparatus for measuring specific gravity of the urine and testing for albumin and sugar.
- Thermometer.
- Centrifuge.
- Microscope.
- Wassermann tubes.
- Ophthalmoscope.
- Dynamometer.
- Flesh pencil.

The flesh pencil is necessary for the doctor to put his O. on the client's stomach if it is so.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Sagging

Does sitting in an office all day typing etc. ever cause a sagging of the bowel and lower organs, causing a bearing down feeling? I notice I do not have this when I am out of the office for any length of time.—M. L.

Answer—A sedentary habit tends to relax the abdomen and the general muscles of support and to favor sagging or slumping. But you can counteract this by devoting about 15 minutes a day to suitable setting up exercises such as the Brady Symphonies.

Ben Told Still Busy

We have been told it is unwise to remove tonsils under the age of 6 years. Our boy, aged 4, has enlarged tonsils, and the only time they seem inflamed is when a croup attack occurs. We were told to spray them often with a DeVilbiss atomizer containing an alcohol and iodine solution, which will in time shrink them.—Mrs. K. H. W.

Answer—Better refer Ben Told to the marines and be guided by your physician's advice. It is not unwise to remove diseased tonsils from a child under the age of 5. The tonsil inflammation is more likely the cause, than an effect, of the boy's "croup attacks." In most cases of recurring croup diseased tonsils or adenoids are present; their removal often puts an end to the croup.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Friday, December 20, 1895

Miss Lillian McGowan was the guest of Mrs. George L. Stephenson at Menominee.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens of Neenah were home from Chicago but were planning to leave for the south, where they were to spend the remainder of the winter.

John L. Sullivan and his company of vaudeville performers appeared at the opera house the night previous before a large audience. Sullivan's boxing partner was Kilrain.

Turkeys were plentiful and were in great demand. Eleven cents per pound was the average price.

The new ushers at the morning services at the Congregational church were F. F. LaRoue, A. G. Leffingwell, H. W. Russell, F. M. Johnston, C. R. Kent, Elmer E. Dunn, H. P. King and Thomas Gallagher.

Mrs. E. Gerechter celebrated her birthday anniversary at her home on Washington-st the day previous.

The new city home was occupied for the first time the night previous. M. F. Barreau, poor commissioner, notified those who are being cared for by the city that they were to be moved into the new quarters and there was a general wall on all sides. They preferred to remain in the hovels they were occupying.

Dr. Fred Omdt and Miss Bertha Miller were married the previous evening by the Rev. Ray C. Barker of the Methodist church.

C. Zimmerman, of Chicago, representing Carson Pipe Scott & Co., was critically ill at the Sherman house.

TEN YEARS AGO

Friday, December 26, 1913

Thomas McGahn left for Milwaukee on a several days' visit.

James Green of Chicago and Anton Schreier of Manitowoc were visiting Appleton relatives.

Whit Grant left for DeKalb, Ill., to visit his brother, the Rev. Frederick C. Grant.

B. C. Godfrey of Kaukauna submitted to an operation at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Koffend of Minneapolis were guests at the home of the former's brother, Joseph Koffend, Sr.

Arthur DeLand was home from Vancouver, British Columbia, for a visit with his mother.

SEEN, HEARD and IMAGINED
---that's all there is to life

"DAY BY DAY IN EVERY WAY"

A round chubby lass who loves to chatter.

Says, "I'll tell the world just what's the matter;

I'd truly love to travel about.

To help my mind to broaden out.

But its my body gets fatter and fatter."

—Mrs. G. W.

Would suggest to the r. c. l. that the short cut to a narrow mind and vanishing body is to stop eating and parroting the Cove philosophy.

Is There a Santa Claus?

Santa Claus or no Santa Claus, we should say it was a distinctly human trait, if not to say human frailty, that left a Book of Etiquette in little Johnny Walker's stocking, when Johnny wanted a pea shooter with which to fire at the teacher.

Would Be Interesting

Doc Cook's next book should be called, "From Pole to Pen, or, Gum and Oil Drops."

TUT TUT

"I wonder if this is the cat's pajamas," mused the henpecked husband, as he picked up some of his wife's lingerie she received for Christmas.

Dear Rollo: The time has come when I must ask you a question the contemplation of which has caused me many a sleepless night and corresponding days of anxiety.

This is a subject of which I have to speak to anybody, as I know the community is upset at the present time by the same question which agitates me. Many a happy home has been broken up by this same question and I, though young, must bear the burden of this wicked world. I dare not mention it to my folks, as they are old-fashioned about such things, so in distress I turn humbly to you for sympathy.

It may surprise you to know that I would consult you upon such an important matter which only my heart should know, but like the morning dawn, the whole affair must come to light and the public must know sooner or later, so I ask your friendly advice, and know you will understand me better than I can explain.

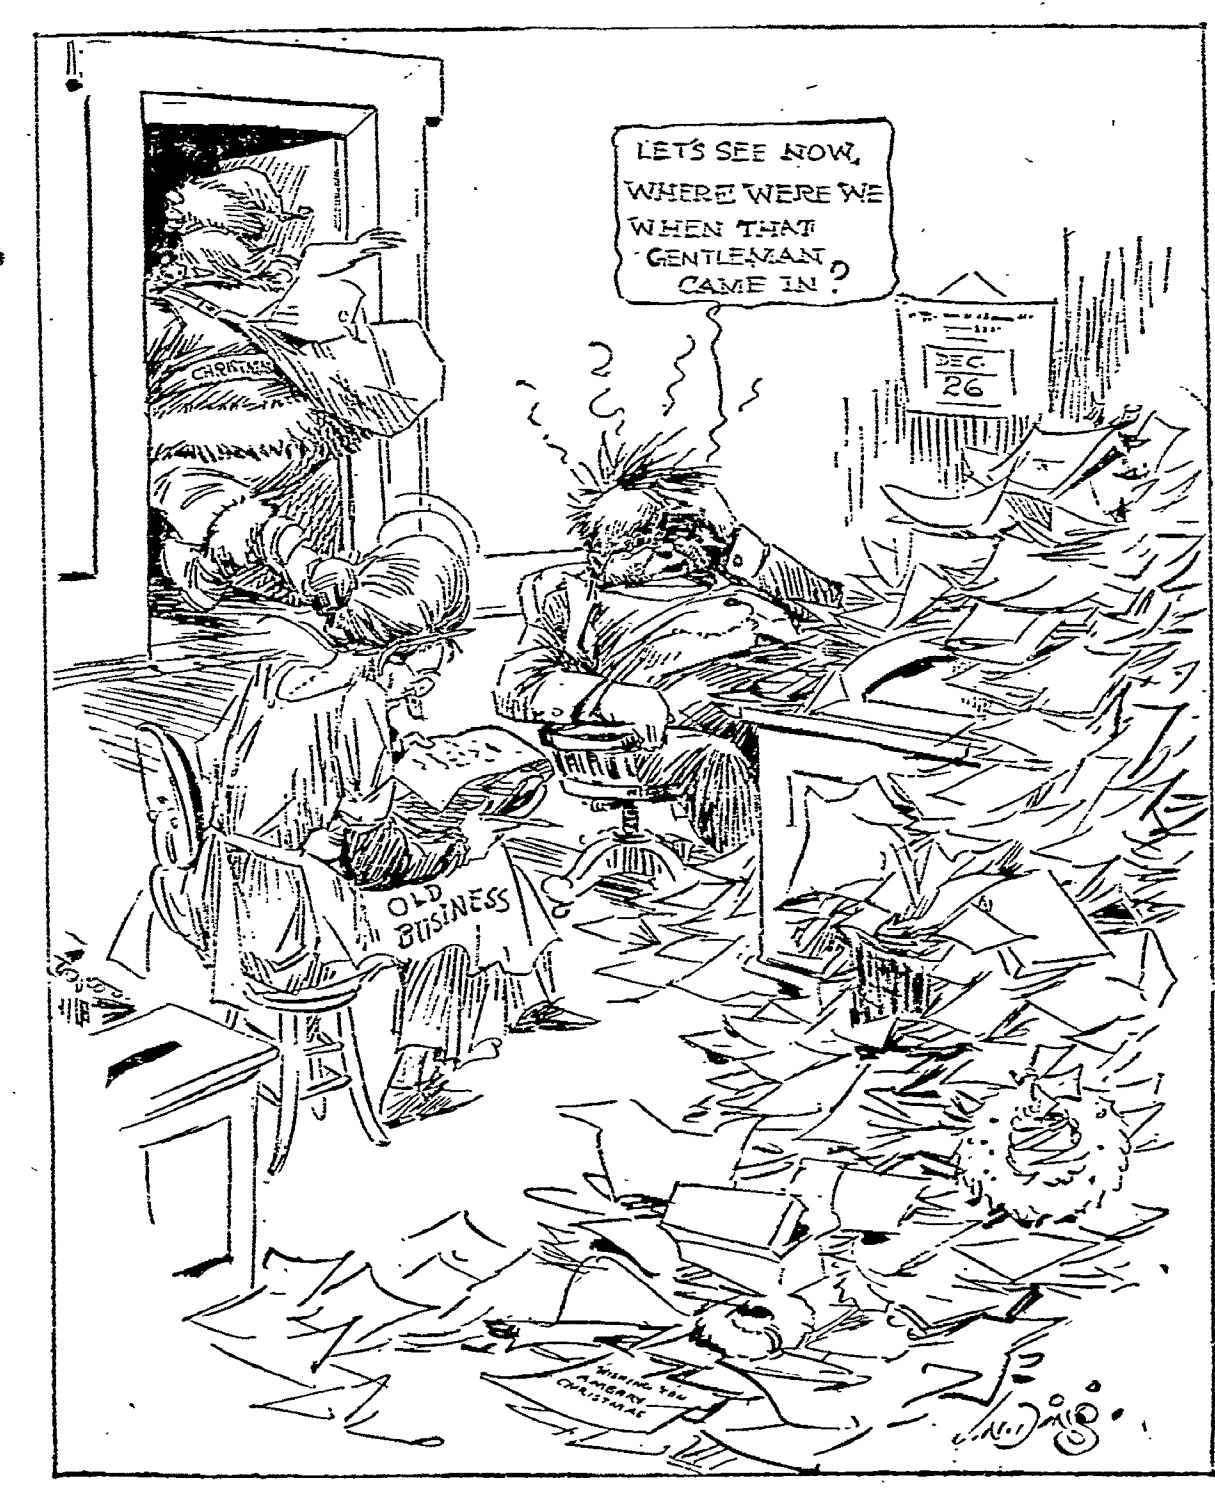

I am asking you a great favor to properly consider this question, which I hate like "it ask, but—to come to the point—"do you think it is time for me to put on my winter underwear?"

—W. J. L.

There, there! Now that you've got that tape worn out, you'll feel better. But please don't keep us in such suspense next time. We thought maybe you swallowed a $5 bill or something. When you ask us a question on winter underwear, you strike us absolutely unaware.

ROLLO.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What are the little dolls called whose dresses are blue in dry weather and violet in wet weather? C. H.

A. These are called hygroscopes.

Q. Please give date and cause of Booker T. Washington's death? A. P.

A. He died November 14, 1915. The physicians attending him said that his death was caused by complete physical breakdown, due to overwork and overstrain.

Q. What is the legend connected with the adoption of the Danish flag? J. J. S.

A. The Danish Minister says that "on June 15, 1219, the Danish King Valdemar II defeated the Estonians in the battle of Revul, when what became our National Flag, the Dannebrog, descended from Heaven to the hard-pressed Danes and gave them victory."

Q. Who is called the "father of the automobile"? G. H. H.

A. Gottlieb Daimler of Stuttgart, Germany, has been given this title for the construction of the first gasoline engine automobile.

Q. Do salmon spawn only once in a life time, and shortly afterwards die? E. L. C.

A. There are ten easily recognized kinds of salmon, only one of which is known to die immediately after spawning. This peculiar salmon is common on the Pacific coast.

Q. Is steam visible? A. H. G.

A. Actual steam is not visible. The visible white vapor which is frequently referred to as steam is in reality a collection of fine moisture particles which are formed by the condensation of true steam.

Q. Does a graduate of a medical school in the United States have to stand an examination in order to practice medicine in Cuba? Z. S.

A. The Cuban Legation says that the Cuban Government recognizes a number of the leading medical colleges in this country and the graduates from these colleges are permitted to practice without any special examination.

Q. Which is heavier, a quart of milk or a quart of cream? E. R.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that a quart of milk is the heavier. This is explained by the fact that there is more fat in cream than in milk, and that fat is lighter than liquid.

Q. Is tattooing of the skin an old custom? R. T.

A. It is impossible to say definitely, where and when this custom originated. Records of it are found in the tombs near Thebes where there are painted representations of a race of white men whose bodies are tattooed. In Caesar's "Commentaries" we are told that the Britons were tattooed.

Drains Cleaned By Mud Turtles

(From The Pathfinder.)

Mud turtles have been harnessed and are now earning their salt while plowing through the silt and refuse that clog drain pipes. A little harness is fastened to the turtle's shell and a piece of string a trifle longer than the drain pipe to be cleaned is attached to the harness. With a piece of chain attached to the free end of the string the turtle is placed head first in the clogged pipe. As turtles do not burrowing it does not take long for them to dig through the silt. It has been found that if the animal stops a few jerks on the string will start him on his way again.

Thirty minutes after being started through a 20-foot pipe one turtle emerged from the other end. The string and chain were pulled through after him and a stream of water from a fire hose soon completed the cleaning.

The animal was first put to work in Hillsdale, Mich. Like other towns it has countless drain pipes lying a couple of feet below the surface of the streets to carry off the surplus rain and melted snow. Some of the pipes being several hundred feet long often become clogged.

Sometimes it took several days to clean one pipe by the old method of jacking powerful streams of water through them, and in severe cases it was found that water alone would not do the work. Hillsdale now has among its assets six drain-cleaning mud turtles. They are trained experts and live in a special pond.

Country Club Annual Party In E.F.U. Hall

Number Of Dinners Precede Annual Holiday Ball At Neenah Thursday Night

The annual holiday party by River-view Country club was held in Equitable fraternal hall in Neenah Thursday night. Many guests from Appleton and Neenah and a number from Oshkosh were present. The rooms were decorated with clusters of pine branches, from which colored lights twinkled. The dining room and tables also were decorated with pine branches and colored lights, and silver candlesticks with tall red candles were used on the tables. Benson's orchestra of Chicago furnished music.

Prior to the party, many of the guests entertained at dinner. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smith of Antigo, who entertained 12 friends in the blue room of Conway hotel.

Several young people from nearby cities had a small party at the Valley Inn in Neenah. The guests included Miss Mary Thomas and William Buchanan, Appleton; Phillip Waite, Oshkosh; Van and John Pinkerton, the Misses Eleanor and Bonnie Wing and Ida May Price, Neenah. Miss Price is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steele of Appleton entertained 18 guests in the French room of Conway hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Beals, Mr. and Mrs. George Banta, Van Pinkerton, and Miss Eleanor Wing of Neenah and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd, Mrs. J. E. Thomas and Henry Stevens of Appleton were in charge of the country club party.

Bank President Entertains For Bank Directors

J. J. Sherman, president of the Citizens National bank entertained directors of the bank at dinner at his home, 500 Walnut-st., on Thursday evening. Mr. Sherman and Joseph Rossmelss were directors on the original board when the bank was opened in Appleton 30 years ago. The bank was opened in January after having been organized for some time before. Mr. Sherman was assisted in entertaining his guests by his daughters.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The building committee of Trinity English Lutheran church are to have a special meeting Friday night at the home of the pastor, The Rev. F. L. Schreckenbach. Business matters are to be discussed.

Boy Scouts of Trinity English Lutheran church will meet at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. A hike has been planned and the scouts will cook their dinner out of doors.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jerke, 515 Walnut-st. entertained several friends at a Christmas party Wednesday evening. E. J. Murphy won the prize at mah jongg.

Mrs. Frank J. Ellick entertained at dinner Thursday evening for Miss Ella Schultz of Racine. Music and dancing amused the guests during the evening.

The Misses Helen and Gwendolyn Dittmer, Atlantic-st. were hostesses to ten friends at their home Thursday evening. Prizes at dice were won by Ruth Nemachek and Marian Daer, the latter of Chicago.

A family reunion was held on Christmas day at the home of Mrs. Max Sigl of Seymour, when all but three of her fourteen children were present. The house was decorated with Christmas green and colors and dinner was served to forty guests. Those of the family who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stroeb and son of Kallspile, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Scholl and family of Hortonville, Mr. and Mrs. William Sigl and family of Black Creek, Mrs. Kathryn Girard and family of Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sigl and son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parrott and family, Mr.

2 Parties For Members Of Old Lawrence Club

The semi-annual reunion of members of the former journalistic society, Zeta Pi, is taking place this holiday season as usual but for a smaller group than ever before. The reunion is in the form of two gatherings, one which took place on Thursday at the home of Miss Marie Kelly, 551 Franklin-st. and another which will be at the home of Miss Mildred Schlawke, 483 South-st. on Saturday evening.

A large percentage of the membership of the former local society which has since become a chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, the national journalistic organization, usually spend the Christmas and summer vacations in Appleton and during these times, several reunion gatherings take place.

This year there are but six members of the society in the vicinity for the holidays: Miss Ella Benyas, Chicago; Miss Dorothy Pierce and Miss Mildred Schlawke, Kenosha; Miss Elfrida Hampel, Neenah; Miss Adela Klumb and Miss Marie Kelly, Appleton. Other years there have been as many as ten or twelve in the city, but since many of the members have accepted positions outside of the teaching profession or have established homes of their own, the holiday reunion group grows smaller.

PARTIES

Miss Norma Schroeder entertained a group of friends at her home on Packard-st. Thursday evening. Games and dancing furnished amusement. Prizes at games were won by Miss Marie Timm and Irene Kott.

About 90 couples attended the open card party given by Columbian club in Columbia hall Thursday night. Collegian orchestra furnished the music.

Miss Alma Rohloff was hostess to the G. P. club at her home Thursday night. Christmas decorations and stunts were featured and the prizes at dice were won by the Misses Marie Koelm and Verona Mauer. Miss Leon Smith, 235 College-ave, is to entertain the club next week.

Mrs. Roy Hauert, 555 Superior-st., entertained a number of friends at her home Thursday evening. Many of the girls are members of Kappa Delta sorority who are home during the Christmas vacation. The guests included Margaret Luce of Tomah; Mildred Schlawke of Kenosha; Lillian Schlawke of Plymouth; Estelle Hagen and Anna Deharty of Chicago; Freda Hagen, Laura Hagen, Bernice Adelt, Vida Smith of Neenah and Hazel Dean Madsen of Appleton.

Miss Florence Kahn entertained several friends at her home on North-st. Thursday afternoon. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, followed by bridge, at which Miss Katherine Pratt won the prize. Others present were the Misses Dorothy Belling, Wilma Thiede, Mary Thom, Bessie Munger, Helen Diderick, Dorothy Murphy, and Babette Marshall.

Mrs. John Parker and Mrs. Christ Wunderlich, who are twin sisters celebrated their birthday anniversary together at Mrs. Parker's home in Center Valley. Wednesday afternoon and evening. Their birthday anniversaries have been celebrated together for the last 52 years. Cards furnished the entertainment.

Irving Zuehlke entertained the employees of his Appleton and Neenah stores and a few friends, in all about 20, at a dinner-dance Thursday evening.

Mrs. Henry Court, Greenville, entertained about a dozen families at her home about a dozen families at her home Thursday evening. After dinner at 8:30 the guests played cards. Prizes were won by Fred Steinacker, Robert Schmiede and Miss Anna Steinacker.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Schommer entertained four couples at dinner and bridge Thursday evening at their home, 424 College-ave. Prizes at bridge were won by Dr. W. J. Frawley and Mrs. Gustave J. Keller.

and Mrs. Aloys Sigl of Green Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sigl and family of Seymour, and Ferdinand, Hubert and Dorothy Sigl. Others present were Frank Leach and daughter, Loretta of Appleton and Mr. Reiger of Appleton.

Women Play Cards To Aid Fund For Bed

Card Party At Conway Hotel Saturday For St. Elizabeth Club

On Saturday afternoon Appleton women will play bridge and schafkopf at the open card party in Conway hotel so that the free bed fund which St. Elizabeth club is maintaining may thrive. The party Saturday afternoon, which begins at 2 o'clock, is one of a series of parties which are the medium through which this organization supports its charitable work.

The plan is to play bridge in the Venetian room and schafkopf in the French room. The hostesses for Saturday's party are Mrs. John Conway, Mrs. D. J. O'Connor, Mrs. George Froelz, Mrs. Charles Green and Mrs. D. P. Steinberg.

LODGE NEWS

Invitations for the Moose dance which is to be given in Moose hall New Year's eve have been issued. The 120th artillery orchestra is to furnish the music. Several Appleton people attended the homecoming of Miss Marian Dodge of Oshkosh, who has lived at Mooseheart, Ill., since she was eight years old. Miss Dodge and her room mate, Miss Solomon of Green Bay, who also lived at Mooseheart, are now attending DeKalb normal school at DeKalb, Ill.

Miss Florence Bement and Miss May Schweitzer, who attended the Christmas festivities at Mooseheart, Ill., told the Women of Mooseheart just how Christmas is spent in Mooseheart, at a meeting of the local chapter Thursday evening in Moose temple. A class of 12 candidates was initiated and plans were completed for the trip to Oshkosh when the local drill team and officers will conduct an open installation.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Herrmann, 505 State-st., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy, to Cornelius S. Crowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Crowe, 1334 Second-st.

Singers Will Be Organized For Festival

Choirs of a number of Appleton churches will join in presentation of the oratorio, Handel's "Messiah" at the Lawrence Memorial chapel at Easter time. Dean Carl J. Waterman of Lawrence Conservatory of Music will direct the production and expects to have rehearsals under way within a week or two.

Pastors of the various churches are giving their cooperation in musical festival. Appleton Ministerial association has considered the plan informally but has taken no definite action as some of the churches still have the project under consideration.

Roy and Jesse Craven left for Milwaukee on Wednesday.

Richard Olmsted and Miss Maude Lambert spent Friday and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Breyer, Madison.

Miss Elva Olmsted and Miss Mildred Olmsted of Clintonville, are spending their Christmas vacation with their sister, Mrs. Jesse Breyer of Medina.

Ralph Hoh has returned to Milwaukee after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoh, 851 Appleton-st.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Helen Patterson, daughter of Mrs. W. S. Patterson of Wausau, to Douglas McCord Moorhead took place at 5 o'clock Christmas day at the home of the bride's mother. The couple was attended by the Misses Jean and Louise Patterson of Berkeley, Calif., and Edward Smith of Chicago. A. C. Patterson gave the bride in marriage and Miss Leticia Moyle was the flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Moorhead left after the ceremony by auto for Erie, Pa., where they will make their home. The wedding was attended by the families of the bride and bridegroom.

The Misses Jean and Louis Patterson left for Tacoma, Wash., after the wedding. Miss Jean will be married on New Year's day in that city to S. L. McNamee. They will make their home in Tacoma.

At a simple wedding performed in the parsonage of the Rev. Mr. Paulz of the Lutheran church at Clintonville, Miss Minnie Kuschel of that city and Otto Springstroh of the town of Freedom were united in matrimony on Christmas day. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuschel, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, were the attendants. The couple is now residing on the bridegroom's farm in Freedom.

SOCIETY REPORTER WANTS NEWS ABOUT YOUR SOCIAL AFFAIRS

We've been appealing for personals since the holiday season began. Now that Christmas is over does not mean that festivities have stopped. New Year's eve is just a few days off and many students who are in town for the Christmas and New Year's vacation as well as other out of town guests are bound to be entertained. This not only makes interesting reading material, but through the personal and party column many old friends who would be delighted to see the visitors have an opportunity to know who is in town. Then, too, what greater compliment could you pay your guests than that of informing others of those who have visited you. The best medium through which to do this is the society page, so call the society reporter and tell her of your parties and personals.

CLUB MEETINGS

Mrs. C. Hearden, 817 Madison-st., entertained the Thursday club at her home Thursday afternoon. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. Anton Boehmlein and Mrs. William Beson. Mrs. Boehmlein will be hostess to the club next week.

St. Paul Lutheran church choir will hold a special rehearsal at 8:45 Sunday morning in the school hall.

McCall Designs Show Newest Style Features

The frock to the right features the slanting waistline sponsored by Paris and accentuates its effect with a slanting side flounce. A long tunic makes the center dress delightful. The frocks on the left has an unusual side panel.

These are variations of the newest of styles—all presented in the marvellous McCall Pattern which is so simple to use because every piece of the pattern is printed.

Three Fashionable Designs in McCall Printed Patterns

Side panels, flounced or pleated, a new vest front, a new sleeve—these are points very much in the favor of these three new styles. Even more in their favor is the fact that they can be bought in New McCall Printed Patterns—so easy to use because of the plain printed directions right on the pattern.

LACKED WATER TO STOP WEYENBERG BARN FIRE

Special to Post-Crescent
Combined Locks—Lack of water was what caused the barn at the Albert Weyenberg place near Darbwood to burn down Monday noon. The loss is estimated at $750, partly covered by insurance.

The combined Locks fire department responded to the call and pumped water from the stream, just as the fire was under control; the stream went dry and they were obliged to move to a neighbor's stream which also went dry in a short time.

The Kimberly Fire department then arrived and used its chemical fire to blaze had gained too much headway to save the building.

USHER IN NEW YEAR WITH WATCH NIGHT PARTY ON MONDAY

Program Is Prepared For Congregational Church End-of-Year Gathering

Kaukauna—First Congregational church of Kaukauna will hold its annual watch night party and program Monday evening. Doors will be open at 8 o'clock. The party will be the first New Year gathering to use the recently equipped kitchen and dining room. The entire church will be open to members and friends of the congregation including the Christian Endeavor society and the Sunday school scholars. The lecture rooms will be used by the younger people for games and amusement while older people may visit in the church parlor.

The committee in charge of the party is composed of Misses Elizabeth Pruden, Florence Merneus and Lyle E. Webster, William Wings and Schaefer. A picnic supper will be served before 11 o'clock. At 11:30 the group will assemble in the audience room to spend the last minutes of the old year in singing, readings, a short talk and closing prayer just after midnight. The party last year was a decided success and it is expected this year's event will be even more pleasing.

MRS. KUCHLER FIRST TO PAY 1923 TAXES

Fifty-seven Persons Visit City Treasurer On First Day Of Tax Collection

Kaukauna—City treasurer, Barney J. Mitchka opened his office in the municipal building at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning for the taxpayers of the city. Mrs. Mike Kuchler was the first person to pay taxes. Although comparatively few citizens have yet appeared, the money is coming in faster than it did the first two days last year. Fifty-seven paid their taxes Wednesday and about that many more appeared Thursday. The first day's deposit amounted to $1,561.52. Taxes may be paid without penalty until Feb. 1. Income tax returns also have been received and are being paid.

People are having considerable difficulty in finding the treasurer's office. It is on the second floor of the municipal building. The entrance to the lobby which leads upstairs is on the south end of the building near the fire department quarters.

SKATERS MEET TO CONSIDER HOCKEY

Kaukauna—A meeting of persons interested in ice skating and hockey will be held Friday evening in the American legion hall on the island. Members of the Fox River Valley Hockey league of Appleton, of which Kaukauna is a member, will be present. The gathering is primarily for directors of the league by G. S. Brenzel of this city, who is head of the local committee in charge, has extended an invitation to all skaters who may be interested. It is expected that a talk will be given by one of the visitors explaining hockey.

Plans have been progressing and it is probable arrangements will be made at once to make a rink which is to be located in the vicinity of the ball park.

CITY PERMIT TAKES PLACE OF L. A. F. SIGN

Kaukauna—Chief of Police R. H. McIntosh has inaugurated a new plan for Kaukauna which is being used in several other cities. Automobile owners who have applied for their 1924 permits may receive a police permit from the police station, after giving proof that they have already applied for the license. The permit is merely a card about the size of a license plate and is numbered and indicated from this city. The use of the cards will protect both the driver and the public. Officials under ordinary conditions will not stop a car and ask the driver to show that he has applied for his new license for the permit will be sufficient proof. Also in case of accident, a culprit has less chance of getting away for witnesses may easily secure the permit number and trace the ownership of the car as all permits will be recorded in the police office.

An attempt will be made to require all car owners to show their new licenses or motor order receipts immediately after the close of the year. The "L. A. F." sign will not always be taken for granted but when a permit is secured, considerable embarrassment may be avoided, Chief McIntosh believes.

H. S. CLASS PLANS ANOTHER REUNION

Thirty-six Graduates Of 1923 Attend Gathering At Hotel Kaukauna

Kaukauna—An enjoyable reunion of the class of 1923 of Kaukauna high school ended late Thursday evening after a decision to hold a second annual reunion on Dec. 23, 1923. The meeting was held in Hotel Kaukauna following a banquet at 4:30 which was attended by about 25 members of the class. The program was conducted according to arrangements, Miss Marion Newton of Combined Locks, president of the class acted as toastmistress.

Talks were given by Harold Frank, Dorothy Smith, Frank Jirko, Florence Goetzman, Milton Metz, all members of the class. William Water, principal of the high school gave an interesting address on "Good-fellowship" while Miss Edna Mae Harris of Neenah, former teacher, spoke on "Yesterday and Today."

Harold Derus sang a tenor solo, a reading was given by Miss Lucille Smith and a piano duet was rendered by Misses Fisher and Laura Mau. A quartet composed of Misses Laura Mau, Olive Jacobson and Harold Derus, and Harold Grimmer, also was well received. Letters of greeting will be sent to members of the class who were unable to be present.

MAKE SURVEYS FOR KAUKAUNA BRIDGES

Kaukauna—Surveys for the location of Kaukauna's new bridges have been completed by W. Henry Klyce, representative of Harrington, Howard and Ashe, consulting engineers of Kansas City, Mo. F. M. Charlesworth, Jr., city engineer, assisted with the work. From the data recorded by the surveys, plans and specifications will be made which will be submitted to the council for inspection and approval. The new bridges will be of the most modern type and will be built so that most of the dangerous curves will be eliminated.

COUNTRY FAR FROM BEING SATURATED WITH AUTOMOBILES

Only a Small Portion Of The Nation's Highways Have Been Improved

That the country may become "saturated" with automobiles, after which buying will be restricted to a predictable amount based on cars wearing out and the increase of population, has been a bugbear to alarmists in the trade for several years.

Statistics do not bear out these fears. According to the American Automobile association, in all but nine states, material increases were shown in number of motor vehicles registered during the six months' period of 1923 over the entire year's registrations of 1922. The record of 1923 in all states will exceed that of 1922.

The state of Ohio climbed up to second place in total number of motor vehicles registered, changing places with California. New York again leads, with a total registration during the six months' period of 1,025,113 motor vehicles. Ohio is second, with 655,000, and California third, with 633,508. Pennsylvania is fourth, with 522,062; Illinois fifth with 523,220; Michigan sixth, with 624,590, and Texas seventh, with 571,951. The total number of motor vehicles registered in all of the states during the six months' period was 13,002,427, as against 12,238,575 for the entire year of 1922.

This shows a healthy growth, which is always an indication of demand far beyond that of saturation. But the real reason for thinking that the saturation point is infinitely distant is found in the roads of the United States. With a total road mileage of 2,819,336, of which only 550,000 miles are improved, what will the demand be, over the present demand, when even a fifth of the unimproved roads become hard-surfaced highways?

MERCHANTS BEGIN ANNUAL TASK OF TAKING INVENTORY

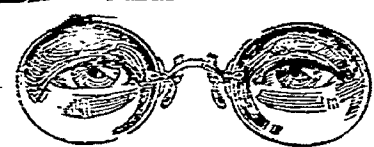

Now that Christmas is behind them quite a number of merchants have commenced taking their annual inventory. Particularly is this true with reference to hardware dealers who require from ten days to two weeks to complete the work. Many of the dry goods and grocery stores do not commence taking their inventories until about the first of the year. A few merchants take inventory twice a year.

A Banquet That Was Almost a Tragedy

Three years ago at a banquet was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results. "It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all drug stores."

MOTORBUS DRIVERS FINED FOR RACING

Neenah Continues Its Demand That Bus Drivers Obey Ordinance

Two motorbus drivers, one driving for the A. C. Homan Tri-City Transportation company operating busses between Appleton, Neenah and Oshkosh, and the other driving a bus for the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company operating interurban cars and busses between Neenah and Fond du Lac, were arrested last week for racing on the Neenah-Oshkosh road. They were Edward Siewow, Menasha, driver for the Homan line, and Herbert Himmeler, Oshkosh, Eastern Wisconsin bus driver. Each paid a fine of $10 and costs in justice court at Neenah after they were convicted of reckless driving. The drivers were observed by police officers to speed out of Neenah at a rate of more than 30 miles an hour. The officers waited for their return and then arrested them.

Three other bus drivers of the Tri-City Transportation company were arraigned Wednesday afternoon following their arrest Saturday on a charge of violating the Neenah bus ordinance. It is said they left within ten minutes of the schedule time of an interurban car, which is prohibited by the ordinance. The drivers are Norbert Steffen, Ben Schulz and Jake Skall. Steffen was arraigned Saturday but the case was adjourned. A similar case has already been appealed by Jake Skall who was arrested some time ago.

Acting under orders of the city council, the Neenah police are making wholesale arrests of bus drivers who do not observe the ordinance. A. C. Homan is reported to have defied orders of Chief C. H. Watts to live up to the municipal statute.

The Tri-City bus which left Appleton at 4:30 Saturday afternoon was damaged when it was struck by an automobile driven by an unidentified driver. The crash dented the body of the bus.

Merchants Jubilant Over Their Business In Christmas Season

Open Roads And Splendid Weather Bring Hundreds Of Shoppers From Neighboring Towns For Holiday Buying

If your Christmas joy was somewhat lessened because you feared that the merchants had had a bad Christmas season, you wasted your time. Visits to representative merchants in every line on the day after Christmas found them pretty well satisfied with the Christmas season and hoping for another holiday time when the roads are open for miles around and the people coming in to shop by the bus load.

That the last ten days of the Christmas shopping period were the best business days in several years was the testimony of practically every businessman interviewed. That the last three days were about the busiest days that the businessmen can remember was also the testimony of the merchants, especially owners of stores where the men were likely to shop. They say that business on Monday was thriving in crowds up to the closing time of each store.

FEWER "HOLIDAY" SALES
Few people bought what is known in merchandise as "impulse goods," according to one man, whose store handles a great variety of things. He said that he was certain that they had sold less of what is termed holiday goods, but a great deal more of the regular run of merchandise. It was his opinion that many people have taken readily to the idea of giving gifts throughout the year rather than just on the one day, and that that has somewhat diversified the Christmas shopping.

That there was not so much Christmas trade in the ready-to-wear stores was the opinion of some, but the trade in the regular drygoods line was exceptionally good. The drygoods stores report that there were many shoppers from towns and cities because of facilities offered by bus lines.

SELL SPRING GOODS
Those shoe dealers who took advantage of the nice weather to show advance styles did a large business in spite of the supposedly "bad season" for shoes. Although they have large stocks of merchandise salable in the season when walking is bad, they sold much more of the fancy low shoes which are usually better in the spring season. There was the usual demand for hosiery and boudoir footwear.

The men's furnishing stores report that their business was pretty steady throughout December, with each succeeding week better than the week before. The heaviest sales in these stores are in furnishings and a large portion of these are purchased by women, the most of whom shop early. All merchants who deal in household furnishings seemed satisfied with their share of the business, reporting favorable sales in many lines. That gifts for the family are popular is evidenced by their business. Many homes were given radio apparatus or parts, while electrical appliances of all kinds were popular. The hardware men were disappointed that the weather made the purchases of skates and skis impractical. These will find a ready market when cold weather makes winter sports possible.

DEMAND FOR CARDS
It is believed by those who handled Christmas greetings that 1923 was the biggest year for them. Many places were entirely sold out of everything but special cards by Christmas eve. It is estimated that thousands of books were sold and quantities of phonograph records. The dealers in musical instruments say that they had a great holiday season. It is almost impossible to estimate the number of cigars the cartons of cigarettes and the pounds of candy which were sold for the holiday season. Dealers in these products declare that they had their biggest seasons. One man said that he thought this was the best year since the war. Jewelers say that they did a big business in most expensive jewelry as well as in toilet articles and smaller pieces. Other stores which handled toilet articles, beads and rings also report a splendid sale. On the whole, the Christmas season seemed to have left behind it an unusually satisfied world.

None too Small

— If fuel had improved as much as motors!

SUPPOSE — looking back at the timid, half-developed motors of twenty years ago, and at the rich, full-volumed gasoline that they didn't half know how to employ or enjoy—suppose the two had paralleled in progress instead of pulling apart. If motor fuel had improved as engines have improved, you'd need a motor no more than a third the size of the present jumbo under your hood.

Not a chance! Chemical knowledge has developed no improvement over the simple, genuine gasoline of the old days. And Worse! Motor improvement has scarcely more than held its own against the constant down-grad-tendencies of motor fuel of common brand.

Wadham's True Gasoline

has suffered no such retrograde. It is scrupulously maintained to the high quality of the first original "straight run" gasolines.

Because science has shown no way for bettering either its native qualities nor the methods of its manufacture, it can not be said to have improved in proportion to the perfection of motors—but it does permit you to enjoy those mechanical perfections in terms of pleasanter running, better mileage and longer life, instead of dissipating their value to offset the short-coming of poor fuel.

BUICK'S ADVICE FOR LUBRICATION BALLOON TIRES PROMOTE SAFETY

Extracts From Buick Bulletin
Tell How To Arrange This Part Of Upkeep

Change oil in Buick crankcase every 500 miles and maintain level at "Full" mark on measuring stick. Study lubrication chart in instruction book, and follow its recommendations systematically.

Cooling System—In cold weather the cooling system should be drained and filled with a solution that will not freeze when the car is allowed to stand. The anti-freezing mixtures are composed of denatured alcohol and water as follows:

Alcohol	Water	Freezing point
50%	50%	10° F. above zero
60%	40%	10° F. above zero
60%	40%	21° F. below zero
50%	50%	10° F. below zero

As the alcohol tends to evaporate more rapidly than the water, thus raising the freezing point of the solution, it is necessary to add alcohol at frequent intervals. With the aid of a hydrometer the specific gravity of the solution can be determined and the corresponding freezing point obtained from the foregoing table. In making specific gravity determination care should be taken to have the temperature of the solution being tested between 55° and 65° F. or serious errors will result.

Solutions containing calcium chloride and similar compounds tend to corrode the metal parts of the cooling system and are not recommended.

Inspect water pump packing nuts frequently and tighten if necessary. Keep fan belt tightened, particularly in hot weather.

Keep steering mechanism properly adjusted and well lubricated. When lubricating the front wheel parts it is a good plan to place a jack under the front axle and to jack up the front end of the car. This makes it easier to get grease in around the tops of the steering arms and bearings. When the car settles down, after the jack is removed, the grease is forced to the bottom of these same bearing surfaces by the weight of the car.

Inspect front wheel alignment frequently and adjust if required. Clutch—Do not "ride" clutch pedal or slip clutch.

Starting—Release starting pedal immediately the engine begins to fire. Do not keep "choke" button out too long else flooding of cylinders with gasoline will result. Do not continue cranking engine with starter if ignition does not take place promptly.

Fuel—Do not attempt carburetor adjustment without thorough knowledge of method and necessity for adjustment. Push "choke" button part way the moment the engine starts to fire and all the way in as soon as engine is warm. Put heat control lever as low in slot as driving conditions will permit. Avoid running engine for any length of time in closed garage because of poisonous gases discharged from engine exhaust.

Battery—Keep battery plates covered with distilled water and all connections properly tightened. Register new car battery with Exide authorized service station for systematic inspection.

Transmission—Shift gears on a hard pull and relieve engine of unnecessary strain. Depress clutch pedal fully when shifting gears.

Do not shift into reverse when car is going forward. Springs—Keep the spring clips tight and the shackles free and well oiled.

Tires—Test tire pressure once each week and on four and four and one-half inch tires maintain at 45 pounds front and 50 pounds rear for normal load conditions.

Care of Paint—Shower new car with slow stream of clean water to harden finish. Do not use hot water in washing car.

CHEVROLET MODELS IN GREAT DEMAND

Quality Cars At Quantity Prices
Appear To Have Met Popular Favor

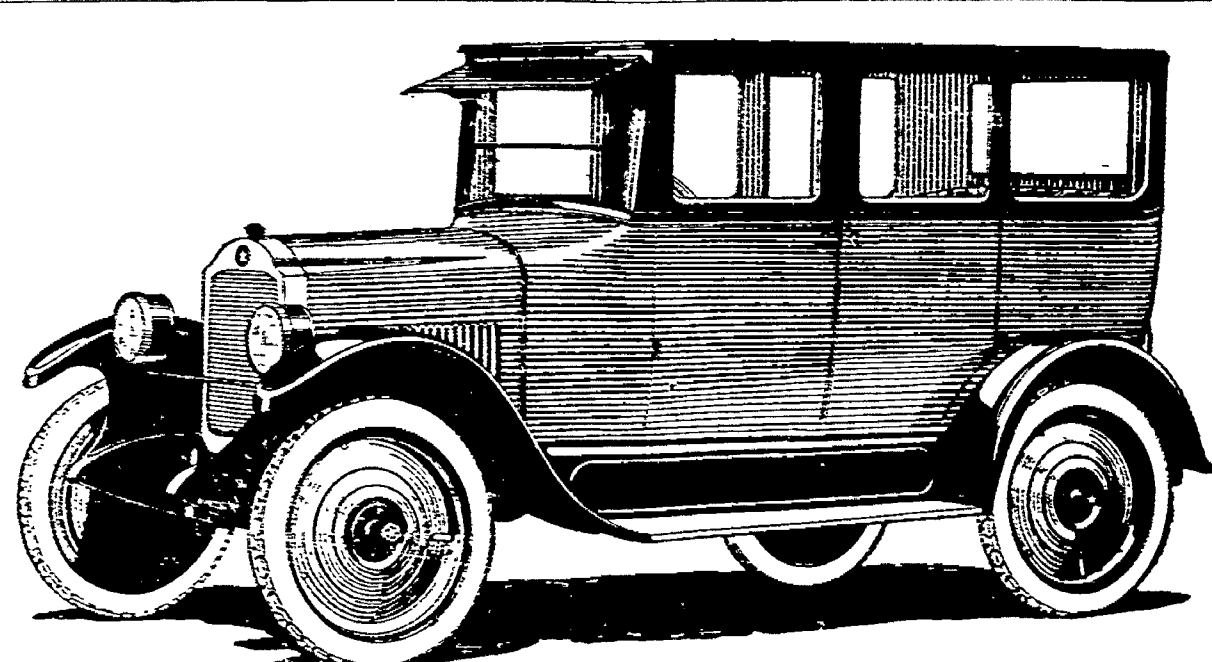

"Quality Cars at Quality Prices" has been the slogan of the Chevrolet for many months. And it is not merely a slogan, but a fact, as owners of the more than a million owners will testify. Now, quality has been increased per dollar of cost through the recent price reduction.

Never before in the history of the automobile business has so much automobile value been offered per dollar of price.

The newspapers and magazines are full of articles about the low purchasing power of today's dollar—that present high wages are more than offset by the high prices of general commodities.

Farmers, in particular, have been demanding a more equitable trading basis for their products in comparison with manufactured products.

Therefore, when the Chevrolet Motor company, in the face of high wages, high material costs and a demand for its product in excess of current supply, announced such extensive price reductions on September 1st, a strong impression of leadership and strength was given to the whole public and to the trade.

THIS IS THE NEW STAR SEDAN WHICH IS BEING SHOWN AT THE SALES ROOM OF THE KURZ MOTOR CAR CO.

NEW ESSEX IS CAR COUNTRY NEEDED

Costs Little And Is Economical To Operate. Yet Is Six Cylinder Type

The New Essex is described by one of the leading trade authorities as "a type of vehicle long needed in this country. It is surprisingly economical to operate, and does not cost much to buy. These qualities, combined in a six-cylinder car selling for less than $1,000, show what can be done by an organization that can work just a little ahead of the market and see the public demand before it actually arrives."

In the designing of the car, Hudson engineers had in mind the development of mechanical qualities which would meet the modern requirements of smoothness, flexibility, endurance and economy. It is believed that these qualities have been obtained to a degree which has heretofore been known only to motor cars of a relatively high price.

It was realized that to improve on the previous four-cylinder Essex—a car with thousands of the warmest admirers throughout the world—it would be necessary to work to high standards of performance and endurance, and to add to them the distinctive advantages of a Hudson-built six-cylinder car.

To attain these results, a free use has been made of the principles and methods which have been responsible for building the reputation of the Hudson Super-Six, as well as the previous Essex.

The motor is chain-driven, has aluminum pistons, roller tappets and the exclusive Hudson design crank shaft. For greater efficiency throughout all seasons of the year the car is equipped with radiator shutters and a justness, patented chassis offers, and important details which have been so great a factor in the success of Hudson and Essex products.

The bodies are developments of types which are familiar to all motorists. The open car is attractively kept and fluent in the sweep of its outline. The coach is a marked advancement over anything of the sort which the market has known. In appearance both cars retain distinctive traces of the previous Essex. But they are longer, better rounded out in their lines, and generally more pleasing. The bodies are dark blue, with vermilion wheels.

The Coach has substantially more room. With its wide doors, its comfortable seating space and the ample headroom above the front seat, it brings a standard of enclosed car spaciousness which has few if any parallels. The windshield is one-piece, insuring clear vision. Rear windows are raised and lowered by a quick-acting, mechanically-operated device which does away with the old lifting strap.

The touring car has similar advantages of roominess and comfort, and has a well-balanced construction to give it unusual sturdiness. It is believed that in every way these cars will be found to have the solid, useful, permanent qualities of the previous Essex, plus a smooth flow of power heretofore exclusive to the Hudson Super-Six.

With such qualities and performance, with enclosed car advantages offered at such a price, the Essex and Essex may be said to supply a new conception of "best transportation."

A thirty minute ride will win you.

DORT HAS BEST COOLING SYSTEM

"The importance of a good cooling system cannot be overlooked. When the Dort Sx made its famous run over Lookout Mountain in high gear—making 34 continuous trips—the quality of the Dort cooling system was given a supreme test. When other cars had to stop on one trip to let motors cool, the Dort kept right on going without a single stop."

"The Dort" system is the Thermosyn. It has extra liberal water jackets and cellular type radiator. The fan is 15 inches in diameter, has four blades and is driven by a 1 1/2 inch leather belt.

DODGE HAS MADE MILLION AUTOS

That Record Achieved In Nine Years Is Believed To Set Motor Record

One million cars built and sold in the first nine years and eleven days of production.

This is the latest achievement of Dodge Brothers, Detroit, who, there by add another to their long list of notable contributions to the automobile industry.

It is a world's record.

No other manufacturer, according to official figures shown by Dodge Brothers executives in support of their contentions, has achieved the one million mark so soon after the completion of his first car.

Dodge Brothers began production on December 4, 1914. Car No. 1,000, 000 rolled off the final assembly line December 13, 1923—9 years and 11 days later.

Strong public demand has given a constant impetus to Dodge Brothers production from the very start. At the outset they were over-sold—and have been ever since, despite enlargements which have converted a factory of some 20 acres of floor space into a great industrial city employing 20,000 men and having a floor space of more than 50 acres. Only a few months ago a large new assembly plant was placed in operation, increasing plant capacity to approximately 1,000 cars a day and placing Dodge Brothers in a better position than ever before to build their share of the huge output scheduled for 1924.

While factory officials are pleased at the attainment of the one million mark in so brief a period, they attach far greater importance to the fact that more than 90 per cent of the first million cars are still in service.

This is the point that interests the public, they maintain, for it is emphatic evidence that quality production has always had preference over quantity production in Dodge Brothers Works, even when the most heroic measures were being adopted to increase plant capacity to meet the increasing demand.

It is also more important than mere numbers to the automotive industry as a whole, as it is indicative of a constant betterment of the product, as compared with the earlier days of experimentation and unreliability.

In almost every town in the country, and in many abroad, there are Dodge Brothers cars of 1915 and 1916 production, with hundreds of thousands of miles to their credit, still giving faithful daily service. Naturally, the people in these communities know about the cars and point to them as evidence of a conscientious effort on the part of the manufacturer to build a product more and more worthy of public acceptance.

"When you consider the number of cars lost annually through fire and other forms of accident," said a Dodge Brothers executive who is attending the Automobile Show, "this is really a remarkable figure. To have 90 per cent of a million cars still in service after 2 years—and anyone can prove this to his own satisfaction by examining the registration records—can mean only one thing, and that is scrupulous care in manufacture."

"It is a well-known fact that most people never take care of their cars the way they should. It is particularly true in the case of Dodge Brothers cars that they are subjected to the most terrific abuse simply because they have the reputation of being able to withstand it. Knowing this, Dodge Brothers have never hesitated to buy the very finest of materials. In fact, there was no other choice, had there been any tendency to depart from the ideal of the founders. The car's reputation demanded it."

"There are innumerable instances in which Dodge Brothers go beyond ordinary manufacturing practices in their effort to produce an exceptional car. It is this policy which is responsible for the present remarkable record—one million built, and over 90 per cent still in service."

FORD TUDOR SEDAN SET DIE RECORD

Lightning Speed Marked Creation Of This New Model For Manufacture

The die making division of the Ford Motor Company set a remarkable record when within eight weeks it designed and manufactured a complete set of dies and tools necessary for the production of the new Tudor Sedan body. Five to six months would previously have been considered a standard of speed for such an undertaking.

Contributing greatly to the speed in producing these tools were the mechanical-electric engraving machine, available now for only two years.

Many changes were made by Ford engineers in the original design of curves and "sweeps" before the desired staunchness and beauty of appearance was secured and the final designs were turned over to the tool design department. In all 110 new dies and punches were required to produce the new Tudor Sedan bodies which like other Ford car bodies are made from pressed steel sections assembled to a hardwood and metal frame.

As master dies were completed they went to the mechanical-electric engraving machine, which has revolutionized die making and has done away with eighty per cent of the hand work, and these machines cut into steel exact replicas of the master dies.

Operation of these machines is most interesting. Movement of the tracer point, which passes over the design to be reproduced, is transferred to the cutter by electric impulses and so sensitive is this tracer to pressure that it has been possible to cut the form of a human finger in tough steel simply by placing a finger under the point as it moved back and forth.

The significant feature, however, is that in the Ford organization nothing

Man 99 Years Old Driving Oakland Auto

Lightning Speed Marked Creation Of This New Model For Manufacture

Today is not only the day of youth but the day of age turned youth. Age is keeping the spirit of youth because it is doing the things that youth likes to do.

In Portland, Oregon, lives one of these old-young youths, William Hoover, who has five months to go to reach the century mark of age. His recreation is motor car driving.

Mr. Hoover enjoys driving his Oakland five-passenger coupe, which is owned by his grandson. It is believed that Mr. Hoover is the oldest man driving an automobile in the world. During his life he has owned and operated many cars, from the flivver up and has taught the younger generation of his family how to drive.

Until six years ago he drove almost constantly. Since then he has been driving more or less over short distances, and is lively enough both in body and mind to enjoy operating his grandson's Oakland.

The easy driving qualities of Oakland, particularly the centralization of hand controls on the steering column, have appealed to Mr. Hoover. The venerable driver believes that the modern improvements in Oakland driving controls tends to take considerable of the strain out of driving, and enables persons of advanced age to continue driving for years in comfort and safety.

SINGLE-SEATED ROADSTER READY

Chandler Blossoms Out With True Sports Car—Beautiful And Efficient

The Chandler Comrade, a single seat roadster, is a new model announced today.

The Comrade is a true sports car, both in appearance and in performance. The lines of the body are especially noteworthy. From the outstanding radiator shell, its lines run straight and true to the middle of the car, then the body streamlines to the rear are in sweeping curves in both vertical and horizontal planes.

Standard equipment for this model includes disk wheels, with the extra wheel mounted at a rakish angle at the rear; side wind-wings, black top, nickel radiator shell, and running boards with polished aluminum guard plates.

Spacious compartments in the rear, accessible either from the top or through the side, provide ample space for luggage and packages. A soft hat, with clubs, may be completely enclosed in the compartment that opens at the side of the car.

The Comrade will be supplied either in light brown or light blue, with contrasting striping.

The new model has more than ample room for two passengers in its wide single seat; a third passenger has the comfortable feeling of a guest who, though extra, is not excessive.

The Comrade body is mounted on the standard Chandler chassis, of 123 inch wheelbase. Under the hood is the Pikes Peak Motor, hill champion from Mt. Washington to Mt. Diablo and victor in numerous official acceleration tests, an engine pre-eminently fitted for a sports model.

At the driver's hand is the gear lever of the Traffic Transmission, the clutch-proof split-second gearset, giving control so carefree, so snappy, that brilliant handling of the car becomes a certainty.

THORESON DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT, NO ONE TO BLAME

Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict Of Accidental Death Following Inquest

H. J. Thoreson's death was entirely accidental, with no one to blame, was the verdict returned Wednesday afternoon by the coroner's jury of six men which held an inquest in the tragic death of the young Appleton lumberman in a crash with a street car on Sunday, Dec. 9, on Second street near Pierce-ave.

Nowhere in the testimony was it brought out that there had been any evidence of drinking in the Thoreson party that was returning from Terrace gardens. The lack of evidence of liquor also was testified by Dr. George N. Pratt who attended Mr. Thoreson.

While Carl Van Dinter, motorist of the street car, gave his opinion that the automobile was proceeding at a rate of about 30 miles an hour, the testimony of other witnesses was that the speed traveled by the death car was between 20 and 22 miles an hour. The street car had stopped at Locust-st to discharge a passenger, Thomas Morrissey, and therefore was not going fast but had almost come to a dead stop at the time the automobile crashed into the street car, Van Dinter said.

DIDN'T SEE CAR

On the other hand, witnesses testified as to the follow in the street which might obscure the vision of an automobile driver, and Frank Yeig, who occupied the front seat with Mr. Thoreson declared that he did not see the headlight of the street car.

Walter J. Driscoll, who also was an occupant of the Thoreson car, is recovering from injuries at his home and did not appear at the inquest, but a written testimony submitted to Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, coroner, and John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, was read to the jury in which Driscoll stated that he knew little of what happened. He with Yeig, Clarence Fleweger, and R. J. Whale were among those injured in the accident.

Fleweger and Whale were in the automobile truck that ran into the rear of the Thoreson car after or at the same time of the collision with the street car. Thoreson and Yeig were unconscious when they were pulled from out the wreckage which started to burn after the collision. Thoreson died two hours later of a fractured skull and other injuries.

The jury consisting of Oscar Kuniz, Joseph Ornstein, C. C. Baker, Joseph Bellinger, A. J. Koch and Thomas Golden, rendered the verdict after they had retired for about 15 minutes. John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, conducted the examination, and Attorney F. W. Grogan represented the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company at the inquest.

SPEND $7,000,000 ON TELEPHONES IN 1924

The 1924 budget of the Wisconsin Telephone company calls for construction expenditures of $7,000,000 and the estimate gains in phones is 22,000, according to President W. R. McGovern, speaking Thursday afternoon at the annual dinner tendered by him at Milwaukee to eighty-five managers in charge of the business at the ninety exchanges operated in the state.

F. T. Quinnan, manager of the Appleton district, and H. M. Fellows, manager of the Appleton branch, attended the meeting.

In 1923, Mr. McGovern declared, $5,500,000 was spent for construction and the number of stations gained numbered 18,000.

The company has approximately 240,000 stations, in Wisconsin and about 103,000 in Milwaukee.

F. M. McEniry, general commercial superintendent, emphasized the importance of exerting every effort in providing satisfactory telephone service to the public. He also spoke about the excellent job being done by the plant people in restoring service after the recent storm of February, 1922.

AUTOIST DODGES BUS BUT HITS TREE

The front end of an automobile driven by Earl Kleist, 330 Garfield-st, was considerably damaged in an encounter at Second-ave and Lemmings-st, Thursday with a west bound Appleton-Kaukauna bus owned by Krautkramer Brothers and driven by Clarence Krautkramer.

Mr. Kleist reported to the police that he was driving north on Lemmings-st near the intersection of Second-ave when in order to avoid colliding with the Kaukauna bus which was proceeding west on Second-ave and turning to go south on Lemmings-st, Mr. Kleist turned his car to the left side of the road. The bus, he said, had turned short and failed to yield one half of the road. The Kleist automobile hit a tree and damaged the front end of the car.

Businessmen Who Guide Affairs On Basis Of Facts Will Succeed In 1924, Babson Says

Noted Business Expert Looks Forward To A Year That Is Midway Between Good And Bad Business

Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Roger W. Babson, internationally known statistician, reviewed developments during the past year and outlined the probable trends for 1924 in a special statement issued Friday.

"A year ago," says Mr. Babson, "business was still improving rapidly. Nearly everybody turned to the new calendar optimistically. The boom which started in the early fall of 1922 was well under way and carried on to March of 1923. Then it collapsed. Business fell off during the summer and this past fall failed to come up to the expectations of those who looked for a continuation of the upswing. As a result, the business world is facing 1924 with a confused mind. It is safe to say that the majority of business men today are hoping for a boom year, but if they are strictly honest with themselves they must admit that they are not very confident of seeing these hopes realized."

Many prominent men in industry have prophesied great prosperity. At the same time, the numerous blues represented in the new congress are evidence that certain sections of the country, at least, are not satisfied with things as they are. Many business men, if asked if they are making money, will shake their heads in a disordered way. Europe still is sick and we cannot expect to proceed regardless of conditions across the Atlantic.

PRESIDENTIAL YEAR

Then there is the psychology of the Presidential year. Does it mean better business or worse business? Some people contend that things are always unsettled previous to a national election. Others point to the fact that the administration will do all that it possibly can to help between now and next November.

"It has been proven statistically," says Babson, "that elections have very little effect on business one way or another, provided both sides nominate good candidates. The evidence shows rather that business has decided itself upon the elections. Whenever we have chosen a president during a period of business depression we have usually changed parties. If the election has fallen during a period of business prosperity we have usually kept the previous administration in office. This time neither condition really exists. We are in a period between the two extremes."

THREE BUSINESS ZONES

It seems to me that the things to watch are in an entirely different direction.

"Business activity may be divided into three zones or belts. (1) An upper zone, such as we were in during the war and post-war periods, when everybody is optimistic, excited and aggressive. (2) A lower zone, when the reverse is true, when many are discouraged, and when a readjustment such as we had in 1921 and 1922 is taking place. (3) A middle zone, when conditions vary from only fair to what is called quite satisfactory business. This third zone is what we have been traversing for the latter part of 1923 and is the one in which we are today. It is these periods between abnormal prosperity and depression, when things are neither very bad nor extremely active, that are healthiest for the business world."

"Excessive prosperity, like very hot weather, saps our vitality. It sates our curiosity, and drives prices out of all proportion to true values. Such a period encourages speculation rather than honest effort, and upsets our sense of value and the true proportion of things. Again, the inevitable and ensuing period of depression is heart-breaking. It discourages men and wrecks business that have been a lifetime in the building. Its costs are written not only in dollars but in hunger, in want, and in human suffering. In business, as in weather, moderate conditions are healthiest."

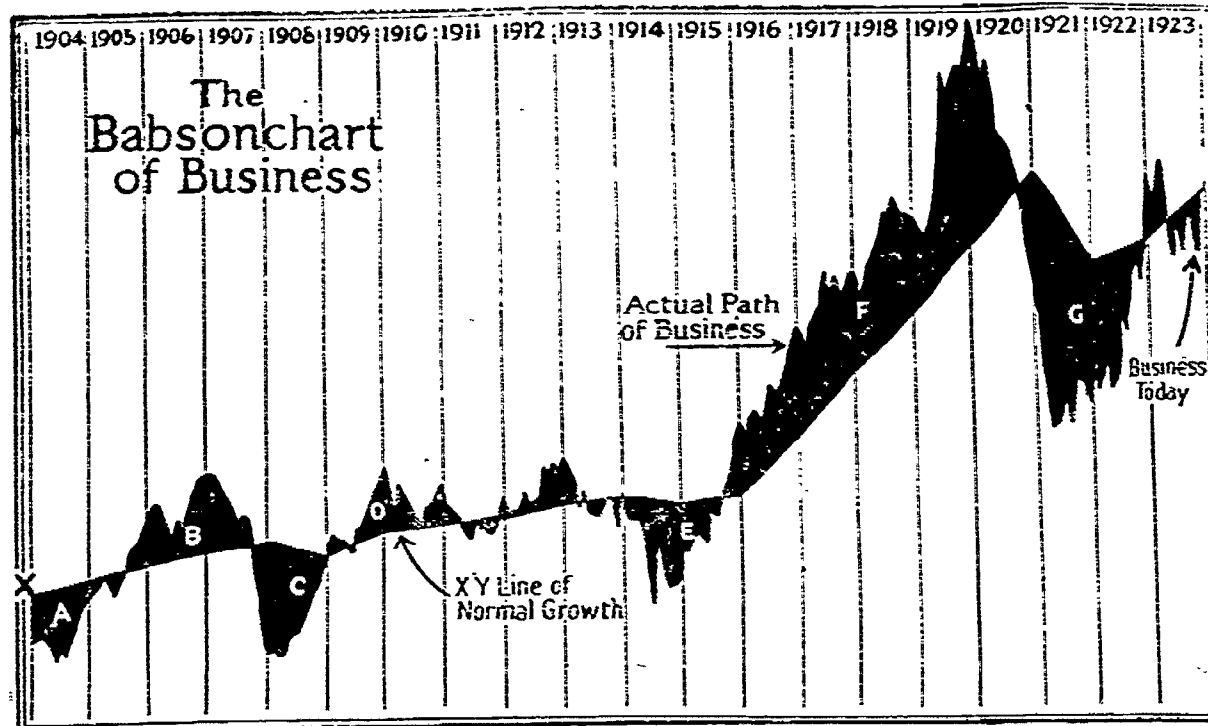

"The entire business community would be much better off if we complained of excessive booms as we complain of severe depressions and if we welcomed the moderate conditions, which are neither so very bad nor yet extremely good, as the proper business weather. We ought to have more of this sort of condition than any other, and the wise business man will set his plans to operate under these circumstances."

1924 CENTRAL ZONE YEAR

"The facts indicate that we shall have such a year during 1924, even though some of it may be below average, rather than above. 1905 and the early part of 1907 saw a boom and inflation. The panic of the latter year took us down into a period of depression lasting through the early part of 1908. Apart from a portion of the years 1909 and 1910, we then enjoyed fairly good business along the central zone until 1914.

"A depression in 1914 laid the foundation for a fairly average year in 1915, which developed into a period of abnormal prosperity of war years, carrying us to a peak at the beginning of 1920. Because of the inevitable operation of the law of action and reaction in business we then suffered the most precipitous decline in business history. The year 1921 and the first half of 1922 are 'black' in the business man's memory and are 'red' on his books. In the middle of 1922 improvement set in with the help of propaganda its oshershot itself in the spring of 1923. Then we settled down to fairly good business and may expect to continue somewhat along this line during the coming year."

"An important thing to remember, however, is that a study of the law of action and reaction suggests that area G below the average line on the attached diagram, should eventually equal the big boom area F above the line. More than half of this readjustment period has already elapsed. How fast the remainder will develop remains to be seen. Those who wish to galvanize business into abnormal prosperity, are therefore working against the fundamentals.

"What if business is most of the time below the average line during the coming months? This really doesn't matter. So long as we keep within a few points, one way or the other, from our X-Y line of average growth, we can progress steadily and make money without fear of the extreme fluctuation and mal-adjustment characteristic of high booms and deep depressions."

BAROMETER READINGS

"Those who are exceedingly optimistic for the next twelve months would call your attention to car loadings which for 1923 ran 10 per cent over the highest year in history. This, they say, indicates great manufacturing activity. Building permits during the last year have run 31 per cent above 1922, which set the previous high point. Bank deposits are large and money is plentiful. The oil situation is improving and the motor industry, they say, looks good. To this, I answer yes—and the mail order and chain-store business is improving and the crop situation is good, excepting cotton—and there we have a 30 to 40c staple."

"Against these optimistic signs we find many of our basic industries suffering from excess factory capacity. The volume has held up, but profits have dwindled and many large manufacturers for the consumer's dollar have grown are trying to readjust costs so the goods from place to place, but raw materials, like wheat and copper, have been practically a drug on the market. There has not been a fair living for the original producers of the great staples of our country. Mind you, we do not need high prices for a brisk increase in trade. All we need is a fair adjustment between prices."

"The coming year, like 1923, will be spotty. Some industries will do very well, others will prove a disappointment. Last year the building industry was one of the leaders. I see no reason for much activity in factory construction. On the other hand, residential building will continue, at least I shall be surprised if it goes on at the 1923 rate. The automobile industry was very active last year. Of course, the extreme activity in this industry cannot continue forever. The automobile is performing, however, a distinct function. The difficulty with this situation is not that there are too many automobiles, but rather that this business is out of line with other things. It would be a good thing for the country if other lines showed the same courage and initiative which the motor business has exhibited."

"I have referred to factory building. Certainly 1924 should not be a year in which many new plants should be constructed. Neither is a year when one should stock up with a large quantity of commodities for forward business. There will be ups and downs in the different items in the commodity list, but outside of seasonal rallies, I do not see why the average of commodity prices should advance. If there is any marked tendency, the average for the first half of the year should be downward rather than upward."

"The labor situation is one of the greatest hindrances to a forward movement. It is true that some wage decreases have lately been seen and strikes are at a low point, but the fact remains that the tendency of the unions to increase wages and to limit the number of apprentices is a serious brake on industry. The immigration situation is not very favorable, if some liquidation in the labor situation would take place, I would be much encouraged. No one can say there is a shortage of goods today. If an attempt is made to inflate business cannot continue forever. The effect will be bad. If, however, we can work downward a little, and thus give the consumer a chance to stock up with goods, this will help the readjustment along."

"Last year, the outstanding opportunities were found in the big industrial centers of the north and the east. The agricultural regions were relatively depressed. There is now developing a better balance between these two types of territory. Though no boom is in sight, the farming section is gradually improving. The total value of crops should be at least 10 per cent greater than a year ago. The improvement is especially marked in Texas and other parts of the cotton belt, though some localities in the south are still in rather poor shape. During 1924, opportunities should also be found in parts of the middle west. The wheat regions probably remain somewhat unfavorable. There are indications that 1924 will witness a public construction program of considerable magnitude and variety.

"One thing is sure, money is distinctly easy and should continue so during the coming months. This means that bonds are in a fine position. I said so a year ago and conditions still remain the same. You should buy good bonds with confidence. As to stocks, the situation is different. There is no use in buying stocks on the minor moves which we occasionally have."

"I repeat then, that central zone conditions are healthiest for us, and that boom times are not necessary for good profits and steady business progress."

"No matter what way the wind is blowing it can be made to sail a ship if you will but set the sails to the wind. Likewise every change in business conditions offers opportunities to the business man. 1924 will be no exception. I say confidently that any man in any business who will take the trouble to adjust his plans to conditions as they are—instead of as he might wish them—can make profits during these next twelve months. 1924 will reward the foresighted. Get the facts and go ahead."

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO THE GAY LITTLE MARQUEISE, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

DEAR LITTLE MARQUEISE:

You certainly have had your compensations. You never had a cantankerous old mother-in-law. I didn't know until yesterday that Jack had been having any trouble with his mother. I supposed she liked me very much, for didn't she give me this beautiful desk and wasn't it through her that I made the acquaintance of this lovely old secret drawer and took to myself your profile of confidential friendship?

I was literally broken-hearted when I received her letter. It seems there is an old maid in the town where she lives that she wanted her son to marry and she has never forgiven me for being young and good looking.

Sometimes I think, dear little Marquise, that people never should grow old and that is probably another compensation you had. For you did not live to be very old. Old people are so hard to live with and they make such hard work of living. They never seem to think that you should have any other life but the life that they have planned for you. Jack's mother prides herself on descent from the Mayflower, and if descent from Puritan stock means being narrow and selfish and bigoted and self-centered, then I am glad that dad came over in the steerage with nothing but his splendid physique and a big brain to depend on. Jack has been awfully angry at his mother and, of course, she lays it all to me, although if she only knew it, it was I who kept him from going down to her house and reading the riot act to her. She is very angry over the baby, you see, particularly as Jack has insisted upon it being named after himself and of course, John Alden is the ancestor upon whom she prides herself. I'm sure if she could see dear little Jacky she would know that he never was any John Alden before him who was any sweeter than he.

I wanted Jack to let me go down to his mother and see if I couldn't make up with her, but he wouldn't let me. Said that all his life he had put up with her whims because he thought he ought to, but when it came to choosing between his wife and his mother, it was his wife every time. He remarked, "From now on I am going to run my own affairs in spite of all my distinguished ancestry."

I guess, dear little Marquise, that things even themselves up in this world. Perhaps you found that out too, before you went away, to that other sphere. If you were not able to speak to the world of your lover and proudly proclaim yourself his wife, yet I got from your letter you never doubted his love. If you did not have a baby in your arms to love and cherish you weren't harassed by an old mother-in-law and a disappointed old maid.

I am not very happy tonight, little Marquise, for Jack's mother is the only person I have ever known who didn't like your poor Leslie.

TOMORROW: Beatrice Grimshaw to Leslie—a wee bit jealous?

Adventures Of The Twins

The Hidden Nest

"Do you know, my dears, I have more trouble watching the chickens than all the other animals in Squeaky Moo Land put together," said little Mister Dodger, the farmhand, as he dodged under the haystack and out again.

"What have they been doing now?" asked Nick.

"It's Misses Henrietta Hen," answered Mister Dodger. "She's got a whole nestful of eggs hidden away somewhere and she's clucking on them. I'd give anything to know where it is."

"What is clucking?" asked Nancy.

"Clucking means 'setting,'" said the little barnyard fairy. "When she takes a notion to hatch out a family of little chicks, she hides her nest and sits on it for three weeks to keep the eggs warm. Then I can pop the chicks and there you are!"

"Well, isn't that all right?" asked Nick.

"Certainly!" nodded Mister Dodger. "As right as bananas on a pine tree! If it were April or May, but it isn't. It isn't far from winter and Misses Hen certainly ought to know that baby chicks hatched now would be sure to freeze or die of being cold or pneumonia or something."

"What are you going to do about it?" asked Nancy.

"First, I'm going to find her nest. And then I'm going to feed her," chuckled Mister Dodger. "Come on and help me hunt."

Finally they found Misses Hen settled on her nest behind the out-barn in the barnyard. She just sat there and looked at them without even blinking her eyes. Perhaps she was trying to pretend she was a statue or something.

"Come on, children," said Mister Dodger loudly. "Come away! And let Misses Hen alone."

The Twins were puzzled, but Mister Dodger winked mysteriously so they knew it was part of the trick. So they climbed down the ladder and waited.

"She has to eat," whispered the farmhand. "She'll leave her nest for

STARTS LIFE AT 37

Toledo, O.—Louis Pym cannot be said to have really started on life's journey, until he was 37.

Until then he had been held back, hindered and thwarted in everything he tried to undertake by his own physical deficiency stammering.

When Pym was 7, he fell victim to this fault. His relationship with others was not perfect, because of it. Seeking employment, he was almost invariably turned down. He was unable to sell himself orally.

Finally, determination and grit won their battle. For eight weeks Pym practiced almost incessantly until he was able to gain control of his vocal organs. He talked everywhere and on every possible occasion, and now he's free to start life on equal terms with others.

Mother Has Best Chance To Be Artist

That Instinct In Woman Is Basis Of Artistic Expression, Says Pianist

New York—The true artist is also a mother.

Before hearing the protests of those who believe themselves true artists and are not mothers, let us give Mrs. Gertrude Ross, pianist and composer, opportunity to explain this dictum of hers.

"The mother instinct is the basis for a woman's artistic expression," she elaborates. And she goes on: "With the awakening of the mother instinct, women develop and expand spiritually. Their capacity for living and feeling is heightened. Whether nature makes herself manifest in the mountain storm or in mother love, it is the basis for drama and art."

Upon which, Mrs. Ross points to her own example. Her career as a composer began with a lullaby she had devised for her daughter, and which Madame Gaski introduced to the public. Her latest achievement is the score for "The Pilgrimage Play," the annual religious pageant given near Hollywood, Calif.

LULLABY IS STARTER

"Had it not been for the success of that lullaby," she remarks, "I would probably never have written the music for 'The Pilgrimage Play.'"

It seems a far cry from the simple melody of that first lullaby to the score of America's Passion Play, yet it is just this classic simplicity that is predominant in this last production and that is the secret of its greatness.

That is true of all her other music. In whatever setting she places her songs, they are almost sure to hark back to the lullaby motif. "The Japanese Lullaby," "The Babe's First Cry," "The Cowboy's Roundup Lullaby" are some of her songs for children.

Imagine a roundup in lullaby form!

LIVES IN SONG

The message of the desert country, of Spanish California, of the great open spaces where music is born, comes to the audience in her songs. Her home itself is the materialization of song—built on piles near the sea in California, so she may always hear the music of the waves.

Back of it all is the mother instinct she repeats.

"We women are primitive creatures," she declares. "After all, there is not so great a difference as you would imagine in the motif that suggests the call of the lonely coyote and the song a mother croons to her sleeping babe."

"I not only believe talented women should marry, but they should marry early. Without the experience of wifehood and motherhood, a woman's art is incomplete. The woman who cannot combine her profession and homemaking has neither the versatility nor the vitality of the true artist."

Household Suggestions

GREASE STAINS
Grease stains on oiled, painted or varnished surfaces may be removed usually by hot water and soap.

HOLE TO DARN
When you have a large hole to darn baste a piece of thin net over the hole and the mesh will make a groundwork for the threads and you can do a neater job.

ALCOHOL ON VARNISH
If alcohol is spilled on varnish wash with water immediately or pour on oil.

FASHION HINTS

SIDE TRAIN
A black satin frock with a surplice front and long, tight sleeves is caught up at the side with a buckle and a wide fold of the material is allowed to drop down and form a side train.

GREEN AND GOLD
A gown of gold lame cloth is uniquely draped so that the lining of green crepe is revealed at each step of the wearer.

SHOULDER FLOWER
The old fashion of wearing a flower on the shoulder is being revived this season.

STEDE HATS
Suede hats are embroidered in self-colored and laced together with cords or ribbons.

MAH-JONGG

BY J. P. BABCOCK
Leading Mah Jongg Authority and Author of Babcock's Red Book of Rules

No. 5—The Play

In my last article I explained the object of Mah Jongg as being the completion of a hand in four sets of three and a pair. You will remember that, immediately following the draw, each player had 13 tiles, except East Wind, who had 14. Thus as four sets of three and a pair total 14, it is obvious that East is the only one who could Mah Jongg on an original hand. The chances of the other players (and of East also after play starts) come through a system of drawing and discarding.

East starts by discarding one tile. This should be the tile he considers of least value to him, i. e., the one which he thinks least likely to work into a three-of-a-kind, a three-run sequence, or a pair. This depends on the remainder of his hand, and (which is true for all players) on the discards after the first play.

ANOTHER DRAW

As soon as East discards, and unless someone "pungs" (which is explained below), South either "chows" (which is explained below, or else draws from the wall. The draw from the wall is of the top tile immediately to the left of the opening. Then South discards and if uninterrupted by "jung" or "chow" West, the next player to South, draws from the wall (the bottom tile of the pair of which South just drew the upper tile) and thus the play proceeds, counter-clockwise around the table.

"Pung." When a piece is discarded, any player can "pung" it if he has two of the same denomination in the same suit in his hand. This he does by saying "pung" and picking the piece up from the table.

"TUNG"

Thus, if East discards a "two bamboo" any other player, regardless of where he sits, can "pung" if he has two or more "two bamboos" in his hand. But a player can never "pung" to fill a pair, or to a sequence, except when the filling of such a pair or sequence will give him game, or Mah Jongg. A "pung" can always be made to complete a hand for Mah Jongg, and such a "pung" takes precedence over a "pung" which does not complete a Mah Jongg hand. When two can "pung" for game, he gets the piece who is nearest the discarder in order of play. It is not called "pung" or "chow" in this case, but "Mah Jongg."

A "pung" automatically shifts the order of play, he who "pungs" then discarding and the game proceeding to his right. Thus, if East discards

Pinches May Be Avoided By Housewife

The all-around homemaker cannot be satisfied with being a "jack of all trades and master of none." She must be a "master of all trades" to cope with her job. She needs to think clearly and act promptly under all conditions. There is nothing she may not be called upon to do "at a pinch" and "pinches" are frequent enough in any household without adding unnecessary ones.

What is a "pinch"? The dictionary defines pinch not only as an emergency but also as a pain.

SHOES AND CORSETS

Pinches of emergency are unavoidable, but pinches of discomfort are not. Among the pinches that keep a woman from being master of her job are two very common ones—uncomfortable shoes and uncomfortable corsets. These should not be endured.

There is no bravery in bearing a hardship that is unnecessary. It is simply poor management. Why make housework harder than it needs to be by keeping the worker's brain so filled with the worker's backache that it can't attend to its job of saving the heels.

BACKACHES PREVENTED

There are many causes for backache (most of them preventable), but the most foolish cause is a poor corset. If comfortable corsets cost more than uncomfortable ones there might be some slight excuse for choosing the cheaper article. But since investing in good ones mean only the spending of a little more time and thought, and since it yields the sure return of time saved by giving the human machine better working conditions, isn't it poor business to go on enduring a needless "pinch"?

Immediately be laid in front of the punger or chower face up, together with the two pieces which gave him authority for making the play. Thus on a pung, the entire three-of-a-kind should be exposed before the discard. While on a chow the three cards of the sequence should be so exposed.

WINTER VEGETABLES

No matter how large a supply of canned vegetables most housewives have on hand, there are days when nothing but the so-called "winter vegetables" meet requirements.

Winter-beets carefully cooked and seasoned vie with the succulent beets of early summer and furnish the needed mineral salts for the winter diet.

Winter-beets need long, slow cooking. The others are tough and easily broken down. The beets should be smooth and without the tiny tough roots covering them. These are old beets of long, slow growth which no amount of cooking will make tender. Allow four hours for cooking winter beets. If the vegetables are not to be served by that time they never will be and if tender before needed they are easily reheated in their sauce. Wash well to remove all dirt, but do not break the skin. Put on to cook in boiling water. Boil slowly until tender. Plunge into cold water and skin skins.

Piquant beets make an ideal vegetable to serve with corned-beef hash.

PIQUANT BEETS

Four medium sized beets, 2 table-spoons butter, 1 table-spoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 table-spoons lemon juice, 1 table-spoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon mustard seed, 2 whole cloves.

Boil beets, slip skins and chop very fine. Put in a hot serving dish and pour over the sauce.

To make sauce—Melt butter, add sugar, salt, mustard seed, cloves and onion and cook over a slow fire until the onion is a pale straw color. Add lemon juice, stirring constantly and cook five minutes. Strain through a fine wire strainer over beets.

Salsify or oyster plant is a delicious winter vegetable when properly cooked. This vegetable requires special treatment to have it at its best.

Wash the roots well and scrape. Drop immediately into acidulated water to which a little flour has been added. This prevents the roots from discoloring and makes the finished dish more appetizing.

The water is prepared in the following proportions: To one quart of cold water add one table-spoon flour and two table-spoons vinegar.

Creamed salsify is delicious with poultry.

Round Shapes Prevail In Hats

So far we have gone away from anything approaching long-headedness in our millinery that many of the new shapes give the effect of a head broader from side to side than from front to back. When there are in a menu lacking in fat the cream sauce is preferred.

WOULDN'T KISS HUSBAND; SPOILS HER GOOD LOOKS

Racine—Angry because his estranged wife refused to return to live with him, Michael Sedlak slashed her across the face and neck with a sharp knife Thursday night. Police are searching for him.

"If you don't kiss me, I'm going to fix you so that nobody else will want to kiss you," he said as he struck at her with the knife, she reported. Several of his fangs found their mark.

There is a long cut on Mrs. Sedlak's left cheek and another on the left side of the neck. Dr. F. B. Marek, who attended her, found it necessary to use twelve stitches to close the cuts.

The woman lost considerable blood and is said to be in a critical condition at her home. Sedlak met his estranged wife while she was returning home from relatives.

A divorce action is now pending.

Portage, Waupaca, Sheboygan, Manitowish and Calumet.

Examinations for the position are to be given under the state civil service commission. Applicants must be between 30 and 50 years and must live in the district. The duties are to inspect orphanages and children's home finding societies and visit homes where children have been placed for adoption. The appointments are to be made by the state board of control. The salaries will be $125 a month for the chief superintendent, and will also have charge of district No. 1, and $300 a month for the other superintendents.

More than 1,700 people were injured in addition to the 120 killed in 1,652 motor accidents, statistics of the highway board show. By far the largest number of mishaps were caused by speeding, although curves, corners, cross roads and railroad crossings also levied a heavy toll, the report says.

freshness
packed in air-tight Tin Containers
To keep it fresh for you

THE moment you open a tin of Thomas J. Webb Coffee, you can sense its delicious freshness. Direct from the "live flame" roaster to you, no moisture has reached it. No hand has touched it. Not a bit of air has seeped through its container to rob you of its precious freshness.

You don't have to transfer this coffee into an air-tight jar for fresh keeping. Its original tin container with its friction top cover affords complete protection. Protects the coffee on its way to you—protects it while you use it. That's why you can use it little by little and find the very last particle in the tin just as fresh and fragrant and flavor-filled as the first.

Because of this protected freshness, a pound of Thomas J. Webb Coffee goes further than a pound of ordinary coffee. Gives you many more cups of good coffee to the pound—costs you less per cup than coffees that sell for less on the pound.

The Home of Quality Cookies

THIS big, airy, sunlit, spotlessly clean bakery has all the "home baking" look of the kitchens in which our wives and mothers make their delicious bread, cake and pastry. Exactly the same rich creamery butter, sweet milk, fresh eggs and other pure ingredients are used in Quality Cookies—the only difference is the size of the ovens in which they are baked and that machines with seeming human intelligence take the place of a multitude of hands.

ZWICK PITS "FIGHT" AGAINST MEISSNER'S SCIENCE

Northern Boy Taught By Mitchells; Sheik Depends On Smashes

Kaukauna Favorite Works For Speed And Punch To Offset Superior Skill Of Menominee Flash

When Jack Zwick and Archie Meissner clash at Armory G Tuesday afternoon it will be a battle of science against brawn. The Menominee boy is a wizard with the gloves, while the Sheik does not profess to be a boxer so much as a fighter.

About a year ago, Poney Mitchell watched Meissner display his cunning and his punch and saw in him a wonderful prospect. Mitchell immediately adopted him and took him to his training quarters. Archie spent many months in the Mitchell camp, and showed great improvement. It was not long before he was considered a real asset by the Milwaukee brothers. He took on both Pinky and I. He and helped train them for some of their most important bouts. Naturally, this taught him a lot of points too. With a world of new tricks tucked away, he went back to the Twin Cities. In the woods and open air boxing school, where it was an inviolate rule that Meissner was to be principal tutor, the success of the venture was assured. These facts account for his long standing as one of the most finished strategists turned out in the state, and his string of victories have further guaranteed his record.

Zwick will remain in Kaukauna to do his training. He is devoting most of his time to the development of speed. His long string of knockouts testifies that he can hit, and although he does not claim to be a boxer, his record shows he is a clever fighter and tough as they come. It is not his aim to try to outbox the Menominee boy, but to wear him out with his terrific body attacks. His work on the sand bag indicates that his old punch has not suffered, and if he lands one of his swines on Archie's jaw, that had will count the pretty stars and listen to the kiddies while the referee counts ten. If the Sheik can deliver one of these wallops to the proper landing place, he has a good chance to win; but if Meissner can roll them off his shoulders or his gloves in his accustomed manner, Jack may as well kiss himself goodnight.

The Sheik says he will start at the sound of the first going to subdue his crafty opponent. Those who have seen him know there will be no loup once he gets started, for Jack can stand up under some healthy punches and still come back for more.

Some of the local fans are under the impression that the fight is due Tuesday evening. This is a mistake. The first going for the opener will sound at 2:30 in the afternoon, and it is expected that the house will be packed to the rafters.

Waddock remaining behind, the Olympic games promise to have about as much class as an average high school meet.

It is said that Havers, the British champion, is a natural born gaffer, but that in all other respects he is reasonably normal.

HUGGINS SIGNS ARMY OF ROOKS FOR YANK CLUB

World Champs Will Try Out 23 New Men From Sticks For Spring Training

New York—The New York Yankees on Thursday announced a list of 23 players added to the roster of the world's champions from various sources for spring training tryouts. Ten have been recalled from minor league clubs, six purchased and one has been drafted, while seven free agents were signed. Four were shifted to other clubs in deals for three of the players purchased.

The list of those recalled includes Pitcher Fred Spores from Albany, N. Y.; Pitcher Elbert Johnson, Norfolk, Va.; Pitcher Gorman Wilson, Bridgeport, Conn.; Catcher L. J. Urban, Buffalo; Infielder Lou Gehrig, Hartford, Conn.; Infielder John Wight, Shreveport, La.; Outfielder, O. D. Tucker, New Orleans; Outfielders Elton Langford and Bernie Arton, Macon, Ga.; Outfielder Henry Lavallee, Bridgeport.

Those purchased were: Pitchers George Dumont and Van Karr, Atlanta; Pitcher Fred Newberry, Macon; Pitcher Charles Olson, Des Moines; Pitcher N. Cullop, Omaha; Catcher Martin Aubrey, Austin, Tex.

Pitcher Adolfo Arzujo, of Corsicana, Tex., was drafted, while free agents signed included Pitcher Ben Stieles, Oakbridge college, North Carolina; Pitcher Milton Gaston, Patterson, N. J.; Pitcher Pirocher Henry Swenson, Cedarhurst, N. Y.; Pitcher Lem Owens, Washington, D. C.; Catcher Bernard Starr, Barre, Vt.; Shortstop George Redfern, North Carolina State college; Catcher William Mahoney, Georgetown university.

Pitchers Wilson and Langford were shifted to Des Moines in the deal by which the Yankees obtained Pirocher Olson, while Pirocher Spores and Infielder Wight were transferred to Atlanta in the deal for Pitchers Dumont and Karr.

GOOZEMAN BATTLES JOE BURMAN FRIDAY

Milwaukee—Featuring what appears to be one of the best balanced fights of the season at the Auditorium will be a ten rounder between those two scuffling little junior featherweights, Ernie Gozeman of California and Joe Burman of Chicago.

Neither needs any introduction. Gozeman, who has been traveling along at a dizzy pace of late, winning his last five starts handily, engages one of the country's greatest fighters in Burman. Joe always a leader in the bantam division, recently graduated into the 122 pound class and won his first start as a junior feather by defeating Johnny McCoy of Cleveland about a week ago.

Gozeman, conquerer of Joey Sanzoni, is a tireless worker who can travel ten rounds faster than the ordinary fighter. He never stops punching and lately he has proved he carries a heavy wallop. Burman is the more flashier of the two, but Ernie's relentless attack has offset any brilliance his past opponents might have possessed. The scrap should be a rattler throughout and the fans know it, judging from the advance demand for tickets, which indicates the little fellows are to play before a large gathering.

Opens New Year Here

Jack Zwick, Kaukauna Sheik, will fight Archie Meissner, Menominee flash, and champion of the state welterweight crown in the main bout of the card scheduled for Jan. 1, at Armory G.

CHAMP'S DAD PLEADS GUILTY TO RUM CHARGE

Salt Lake City, Utah—Appearing before City Judge N. H. Tanner on Thursday, Hyrum Demossey, father of the world's heavyweight boxing champion, Jack Dempsey, entered a plea of guilty to possession of liquor. Sentence will be passed on Friday.

FREEDMAN HAS CHANCE TO RISE OUT OF SLUMP

New York—Sailor Freedman of Chicago Friday night has his opportunity to reestablish himself as a contender in the lightweight division when he meets Johnny Clinton at Madison Square Garden. Not long ago considered as a possible successor to Benny Leonard, Freedman has of late been in eclipse.

MACK HAS HOPES FRANK WELCH MAY PROVE REAL STAR

Connie Says Frank Is Great Prospect But Hasn't Arrived Yet

OFTEN players with a world of natural ability fail to be rated as stars simply because they lack some certain thing.

Some lack ambition, others are handicapped by a bad disposition, a few lack courage, many fail to reach stardom simply because they refuse to take the game seriously.

Frank Welch of the Philadelphia Athletics is one player who should occupy a much higher rating than his present standard in baseball.

Welch is fast, has a wonderful arm, is a good hitter and has plenty of courage. In a pinch there is no more dangerous hitter in the American league.

For two years Welch has given promise of developing into a star, but instead of getting somewhere, has stood still. Possibly it is because he fails to take the game more seriously. Frank is the easy going disposition, it's all right with him whether he strikes out or hits a home run.

"Welch is a great prospect," says Connie Mack. "He hasn't arrived as yet. He lacks a certain something that would make him a much better player. However I haven't lost hopes. I look for him to hit his proper stride one of these days. When he does the scribes will be writing about a real player. He has the ability."

A. A. L. MEN PLAN NEW PIN LEAGUE

Pin smashers of the Aid Association for Lutherans have finished their 1923 schedule and are planning a new league for the new year. The ten teams of the men's league did extremely well during the present year and are looking forward to increasing their records in the new league.

Arrangements for the 1924 schedule are now in progress, and it is expected that play will start on Jan. 7. No definite arrangements as to lineups have been completed as yet. Probably the men will be switched about considerably in order to give everyone a chance to try his luck with a different combination.

F. R. V. Hockey Chiefs Meet At Kaukauna To Adopt 1924 Schedule

Appleton, Neenah And Oshkosh Will Help Electric City Club Organize At Pep Meeting Friday

Magnates and members of the Fox River Valley hockey league met Friday night at the Kaukauna Legion club rooms to discuss the schedule which is to be presented by the secretary, and to help the newly organized Kaukauna club get on its feet.

Before the business meeting starts, a pep meeting is planned to obtain financial and moral support among the Electric City fans. Indications are that the winter sport will go over big among Kaukauna enthusiasts, and although the club was late in joining the loop, prospects are bright for a successful season. The lateness of its entry will not handicap the Electric City a great deal, for the mild weather and consequent lack of ice has prevented the older teams from keeping busy at practice. The Appleton team, led by Walter Bell has had one day of work on the river near Strober's island, but the cold weather failed and drill had to be abandoned.

Oshkosh, Neenah and Appleton entered the wheel early, and businessmen of these cities have come to the support of the teams with suits and material, so that they are ready to start at any time. It is expected that Kaukauna will rise to the occasion also, and if the cold snap lasts, the league expects to get off to a start shortly after new years day.

Bantam Cracks Flourish Down In Dixie Land

The south specializes in bantamweights. Pete Herman of New Orleans won the bantamweight championship twice before dropping into retirement with a ruined vision.

Pal Moore of Memphis was one of the fastest midlegs the game ever produced. None of the champions could ever meet him in a tight fight. Al Fetting of New Orleans is a better than average bantam.

Now comes Bill Kennedy, another Crescent City pee-wee with championship aims. Kennedy is under the management of Tony Palazolo, who used to train Herman, and the experts say he is a comer.
